Baughan to Coach Cornell

Maxie Baughan, defensive coordinator with the Detroit Lions, has been named as Cornell University's 20th head football coach, replacing Bob Blackman, who retired at the end of last season.

Baughan has spent three seasons with the Lions under coach Monte Clark. In the strike-shortened 1982 season the Lions topped the National football Conference in rushing defense, allowing 95 yards a game. Baughan's defense led the conference in sacking opposing quarterbacks with 31.

The appointment of Baughan maintains a tradition at Cornell of reaching up for coaches. Blackman, who returned to the Ivy League from Illinois, was third among active coaches in major-college victories. However in six seasons with the Big Red, his overall record was no better than 23-33-1.

little Tigers had 25.

PHS center Kyle Hayes took advantage of his 6-5½ height to tap in numerous rebounds. He finished with 14 points. Jerry Ingram added 12 and Terry Phox 13 to account for most of Princeton's offense.

Throughout the game, the frustrated Bulldogs could not overcome Princeton's trapping zone press as they tried to bring the ball down court or Princeton's tenacious man-to-man defense under the basket.

Only at the foul line did Hopewell enjoy an advantage, outscoring PHS there 14-5. Jim Patnick, who had four of the losers's eleven baskets, led HV with 14 points. Hopewell's record fell to 2-7 with the loss.

TIGER WOMEN WIN

Beat Brown in Hockey. While the men's hockey team was defeating Brown, 4-1, in Providence last Friday night, the Princeton women's team won an even more one-sided contest at Baker Rink.

Feeling the effects of a three-week layoff, the women still had little trouble beating the Bruins, 6-0. The victory raised the team's record to 4-1, including three Ivy contests without a loss.

Outshooting the visitors, 31-13, the Tigers scored their first six minutes into the game when sophomore wing Eliot Ammidon took a pass in the slot from Syrena Carlbom, and scored easily. Freshman center Caroline Coleman scored her first ECAC goal near the end of the first period.

Laura Halldorson scored a pair of second period goals, and Sue McGilvray added two more in the third. Carlbom finished with three assists. Tiger goalie Becky Potter recorded her first shutout of the season.

IMPRESSIVE WEEK

For Hun School Quintet. The past week, even though it included its first defeat, was one of solid achievement for the Hun School basketball team.

It ended Saturday in Hightstown where Hun edged Dalton, 44-41, to win the month-delayed championship game of the Peddie Tournament, and in so doing Hun became the only team to win the event three times.

The week began with an 89-76 loss to Trenton. But in defeat, Hun proved it could play with one of the top teams in the entire state and the Raiders drew this comment from Trenton coach Bill Clark: "Give Hun credit. They played well. Without a doubt, they're the best prep school team in the state."

In between, Hun flexed its muscle for two easy wins. On Friday, Hun overpowered Newark Academy, 63-24, a school where Hun coach Bob Hendrickson had previously coached for many years. "I was nice as I could be under the circumstances," observed Hendrickson.

Two days earlier, Hun used a balanced attack to hammer town rival Princeton Day School, 73-48, as six players scored eight or more points for Hun. Hun ended the week with a glittering 8-1 record.

Ahead for the Raiders is a game this Wednesday afternoon at Lawrenceville School and one Friday at 8 at Steinert. With its early success, Hun has become a team for opponents to point to. "I don't think" said Hendrickson, "We'll have an easy ball game from here on."

Equal in Ability. The championship game with Dalton (N.Y.), commented Hendrickson "was a combination of two teams with basically the same abilities." (Both entered the contest with 7-1 records, Dalton's only loss coming at the hands of a fine Horace Mann team.) "They coach defense the same way we do."

It was a poor day for both teams -- Hun 33 percent, Dalton 35 -- but -- that was the result, said Hendrickson, of the defense dictating a lot of forced shots.

With 1:30 left and Dalton owning a 41-40 lead, Paul Franzoni went up in a crowd under the basket to grab a missed jumper from teammate Sean Couch from deep in the corner. Franzoni's layup put Hun up by one.

Franzoni, after having missed the front end of a 1-and-1 twice as the clock ran down, the second time with 14 seconds left, iced the win for Hun by sinking two foulshots 1 forward, who thus scored the last four points in the game, finished with 13 for Hun.

Offensively, Hun's biggest gun by far was Couch, who canned 23 points. "Twenty-three out of 44 isn't bad," overved Hendrickson, who agreed that Couch was the difference in the game with the taller Titans.

Trenton Prevails. "Second shots is the thing that beat us. Probably a third of their points -- maybe even more -- came on second shots," said Hendrickson, assessing the loss to the powerful Trenton Tornadoes.

As it was, Hun played Trenton even the first quarter -- 18 to 17 - and was still battling without giving quarter when Trenton suddenly erupted for six points in the last 20 seconds of the half to take a 46-37 lead at intermission.

Said Hendrickson, "I'm not saying it was the difference in the game but it gave them some momentum heading into the second half. In the next two periods, Trenton outscored Hun by a scant 43-39.

Hun stayed in contention on and Franzoni who combined for 42 points, Couch hitting 24, but it was the all-around play of center Andrew Marlatt that drew Hendrickson's praise.

Marlatt was outstanding in every phase of the game," stated Hendrickson. "He boxed out well ... he did everything he was supposed to do." Marlatt ended with 15 points for Hun while Paul Pintella added six and Stuart Tucker eight. Trenton's Steve Collins led all scorers with 26.

"The experience of playing Trenton will help us," concluded Hendrickson. "There's no question that they're an outstanding team."

PDS SEXTET VICTORIOUS

Beats Brick Township, 3-0. The Princeton Day hockey team won a pair of games last week, one of them without scoring a goal. The wins evened the Panthers' record at 3-3.

The first triumph came Friday when Montclair-Kimberly failed to show for its scheduled contest. The date and time had been confirmed between the two schools earlier in the week, so the game will go down as a forfeit in PDS's favor.

"We had to pay the officals who showed up," commented coach Buzz Woodworth. "I guess that makes it an official win."

Monday night, the Panthers proved they could also win when the other team did show up, blanking Brick Township, 3-0. This Brick team was not as large, and therefore not as physical as past teams, and eventually PDS was able to take command.

Goalie Dan Goldman recorded his first shutout of the season, stopping 31 shots, many in the first period, when Brick gave its best effort. Erik Ott opened the scoring at 9:38 of the first stanza, assisted by Eric Bylin.

Andy Hawkes tallied in the second, tipping in a shot by Geordie McLaughlin. Bylin was credited with an assist also. In the third, Dave Supple scored the third goal unassisted.

This Wednesday, the Panthers will travel to Pottstown in search of their first victory over Hill in about 10 years. Their next home game will be Wednesday, January 19 against Delbarton.

Saturday's Wild Weather Leaves Some Areas With Plenty of Snow, Others with Just a Trace

At 11:30 Saturday morning, it was snowing hard when weatherman David Ludlum left his Science Associates office on Nassau Street. It was raining hard when he reached his house on Riverside.

Drivers report moving north along Carter Road in a good stiff rain — and suddenly finding themselves in a good stiff blizzard with zero visibility.

In Princeton and some of its environs, like Kingston, the storm never achieved the wild-eyed 12 inches of snow forecast out of both New York and Philadelphia. But Hopewell had about three inches, and travelers who started north from Princeton in the rain, turned back somewhere in Montgomery Township because the snow was just too fierce.

It was a steady rain that turned into a wet snow, from the northwest moving southeast along a line.

"The computer was the culprit," Mr. Ludlum says firmly.

"The same kind of thing has happened before — most memorably in 1909 on the day of William Howard Taft's inauguration as President. Nine inches of snow on Washington, D.C. Sloppiest inauguration in history."

It is Mr. Ludlum's hunch that meteorologists fed into the computer the various data they had on storm systems like this, and the computer spewed out 1909 instead of 1983.

"Same kind of thing" refers to a small storm system across Ohio and Pennsylvania and into Maryland, regenerating into a great, big storm. BIG, like President Taft.

"That storm in 1909 did re-group; that is, get warmth and moisture from the Atlantic and then moves northeast and dumps snow. But this one didn't."

Ten inches in the Poconos. Five in Albany, 14 in southern Vermont. One and a half in Princeton.

It was peculiar, Mr. Ludlum explains, because the heaviest snow was so far inland and to the north. It should have been heavier on the coast.

Mr. Ludlum himself, leaving the computer out in the cold, looked to the south and found it covered with cold, dry air. "No southern moisture coming up. I took a dim view of the computer's forecast. Followed the storm from 4 a.m. Saturday and could see nothing developing. The wind was calm on the Eastern Shore, in Maryland."

January, in case you have peered over the top of your fur collar, is now slightly below normal in temperature. It had been six degrees above normal.

"We are back," Mr. Ludlum says, watching the graceful descent of the mercury, "in the winter business."

Committee Seeks Public Comment On Closing of Elementary School

"We want public input — this is a moving target, not a fixed target."

With that comment Monday night, Corinne Kyle, head of the School Closing Advisory Committee, extended an invitation to next Monday night's public hearing on the closing of an elementary school.

The hearing, fourth in the series of six scheduled by the Committee, will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of Princeton High School.

The purpose of the hearing is to review the criteria the committee will use in making their recommendation to the school board. They have already made up a list of criteria, drawn chiefly from those developed by the USE committee that recommended closing Johnson Park School.

But members of the committee would like to know what the public thinks.

So far, committee members and administration have:

- prepared a suggested redistricting map, which will be explained Monday.
- gerrymandered a district line to insure racial balance.
- calculated the percentage of minority students in a given school according to "black" or "other minorities", to tenths of a percent.
- asked municipal police for accident reports of key intersections.
- counted the exact number of children who would be subjected to a second change; that is, those who were moved when Johnson Park closed and would be moved a second time. (18 each at Riverside and Community Park.)

Superintendent Paul Houston told Monday night's meeting that the administration does not yet know the impact on busing of closing a school, but it is "probably not significant, no matter what school is closed."

If Community Park School is closed, he smiled, children on "hazardous routes" might then be on standard bus routes, which would cost the community considerably less. Walkers who now walk to Little-Brook, he pointed out, could still walk to Riverside. If Riverside is closed, more bus routes would be needed on the periphery of the district...and so on.

Committee members will themselves climb aboard a bus this Saturday, to spend the morning touring all three elementary schools.

Two Charged with Assault After Stabbing on Lytle St.

A 25-year old Somerset resident was struck on the back of the head by an ax handle early Tuesday morning, and as he lay unconscious on Lytle Street, was stabbed twice by another assailant.

The victim, identified as Robert Wood Jr., was taken by ambulance to nearby Princeton Medical Center where 38 sutures were used to close the two stab wounds. Police report that he was released a few hours after being treated.

Arraigned before Borough Judge Russell W. Annich Tuesday afternoon were Thomas Moore 3d, 24, 19 Green Street, and Ms. Martice E. Gee, 21, of Cranbury. Both had been charged by Borough police with aggravated assault.

Moore, who is unemployed, and Gee, who works as a housekeeper, were sent to the Mercer County Detention Center by Judge Annich where both will be held until bail is set by a Superior Court Judge.

Sgt. William Fitch, Ptl. William Nathan, Ptl. Donald Dawson and Ptl. Ralph Terracciano had responded to a 12:45 a.m. call from Marv's Lounge on Lytle Street requesting an ambulance. After the officers found the victim lying in the street, Det. William Clark was called to aid in the investigation.

As reconstructed by police, the victim and Moore had begun to argue and confront each other inside the Lounge. Both then walked out where the argument continued into the street.

While the argument between the two continued, Ms. Gee allegedly came up and struck the victim over the head, knocking him unconscious. As he lay inert, Moore then allegedly stabbed him twice with a folding-type knife which police later recovered.

The police investigation is continuing.

School Closing

Much of the time at Monday night's meeting was spent talking about procedures, chiefly about how the group would go about making its recommendation. (This group will only recommend which school to close. It is the school board that will make the final decision.)

Should members give each school a "1, 2, 3" rating? Should points be assigned to each school? Is it all right if each committee member decides in an individual way? How will the criteria be weighted?

"The public is going to want to know what weight you're giving to various criteria," warned school board member Michael Tomalin who, with Hannah Fox, is a non-voting liaison between committee and board.

"The public hearing may influence the way each member assigns weights," Mrs. Kyle remarked.

The committee unanimously voted down a proposal that everyone should agree on these weights.

Criteria Blocked Out. A criteria work sheet, blocked out by the committee, lists as criteria, a school's number and kinds of rooms and number of stories, its layout and playground area and how easy it would be to remodel for another use.

In addition, the committee agreed to consider "Getting to School Safely" — was the loading and unloading area for buses safe? For cars? For bikes? How safe are walking routes and what about crossing guards? What is the impact on busing of closing this school or that?

How many Johnson Park children would have to be moved again? What would be the effect on special education classes of closing a particular school?

And how much do you save by closing a school? How can the closed school be "recycled"?

Three Schools Evaluated. Harry Levine, school board member whose profession is commercial real estate, evaluated for the committee on Monday night, the three elementary schools and Valley Road.

Community Park is the best of the elementary schools in terms of residential or commercial use, or an alternative educational use like a Day Care center or a place for adult education, Mr. Levine said. He pointed out that it is the largest of the three schools, and has the "broadest market" because of its central location.

The Community Park property does have inadequate parking, he said, but is close to other parking.

He spoke smilingly of Littlebrook as "an estate." Because it is surrounded by a residential zone, it would be hard to find "broad" uses for the property, he said, and very difficult to get the area rezoned for commercial use.

Riverside is on a busy street, close to the Princeton-Kingston Road with extensive frontage, and is therefore a better commercial property than Littlebrook, although it, too, is surrounded by a residential zone.

All three schools now have a nursery school, and the two survivors might well keep on as shelters for such schools, Mr. Levine suggested. Housing for the elderly would be a possibility for both Community Park and the Valley Road building, but Riverside and Littlebrook might be too remote, he said.

"The economics of residential use aren't too good," he remarked, and added that Princeton is competing with "A great array" of excess school properties.

Valley Road Uses. The Valley Road building, on two busy streets, and adjacent to commercial zones, could be either offices or apartments, he said.

"Valley Road is the most valuable asset the schools have. The goal of the Business-Finance committee of the board in 1983, is to pursue the idea of making Valley Road econmically profitable through re zoning."

Cross-Connection of Sewer, Water Pipes May Contaminate Your Drinking Water

If you have an arrangement of water and sewer pipes called a "cross-connection," your drinking water could become contaminated by the contents of the sewer pipe.

A warning of this "potentially hazardous situation" was issued this week by the Princeton Regional Health Department. Health Officer Patrick Hanson said the problem had been discovered by meter-readers for Elizabethtown Water, which supplies water for Princeton. The problem is not revealed through the meter, and apparently meter-readers noticed the cross-connection hook-ups in customers' basements.

The problem is most likely to occur in houses built on low-lying areas, according to Thomas Cawley, vice-president for engineering with Elizabethtown. In some houses, where the house is lower than the street and the sewer, home-owners have opened a valve on their drinking-water line, using the water pressure as a siphon to force drain water up into the sewer line.

This works fine, Mr. Cawley explains, until something blocks the sewer or, perhaps, there is a heavy use of water in the house, like the running of a dishwasher. Then the pressure in the street is greater, and sewage could be brought back into the house.

The water company has found 15 or 20 of these connections so far, Mr. Cawley said.

Mr. Hanson pointed out that the problem — which can be corrected by a plumber — may be greater in homes 30 or 40 years old. He warned that the health problems involved could be gastro-enteritis, hepatitis, upset stomachs or even typhoid.

Householders who are not sure whether they have the cross-connection may call the health office at 924-3407 or 924-0447. The plumbing inspector will make an inspection, free of charge.

TOPICS Of The Town

WORK IN PROGRESS

On New Building. Groundbreaking ceremonies were held last week for a building whose ground is not only broken, but already carved into a big hole and lined with concrete.

The Gershen Building, 182 Nassau, fills the space between Cox's Store and Nassau Savings and Loan. The $4 million, four-story structure could bring the Borough $15,000 a year in taxes, according to estimates by assessor Stuart Robson Jr. That's the municipal share of the possible $100,000 tax bill for the building. Schools and Mercer County divide the rest.

Construction is scheduled for completion by August. So far, no leases have been signed, builder Alvin Gershen said this week. The building has 14,000 square feet of offices and, on the street level, 6,000 square feet of retail space.

Mr. Gershen said he hopes to have only one store in the retail area, preferably a quality men's store or perhaps a jeweler.

On the top floor, Philadelphia architect John Lloyd is designing apartments, some with balconies facing Nassau.

"We haven't yet decided how big they will be," Mr. Gershen said. During Zoning Board hearings, the developer talked about six one-bedroom units; now, however, he is considering four two-bedroom apartments. They will probably sell in the $165,000 range, he said.

The building will be stucco. Brick, Mr. Gershen pointed out, would clash with the brick of Nassau Savings and Loan, next door. In the plan is a lobby for offices and apartments with an elevator descending to the parking garage below the building.

People who live in the fourth-floor apartments will have a special elevator key. Only those with this key will be able to take the elevator to the fourth floor.

The developer said he plans to build the structure from the rear, so there will be "no activity on Nassau Street.

LOWER COUNTY TAXES?

Maybe. A tax decrease of three-tenths of a percent — said to be the biggest in 15 years — is predicted in the $76 million budget submitted to Mercer County Freeholders by County executive Bill Mathesius. The Freeholders will now work the budget over before finally passing it, with or without alterations.

Although savings would be different for different property-owners, the tax rate proposed in the budget is lower by $6 per $10,000 of assessed valuation, according to Robert Prunetti, budget director.

In the Borough, about 35 percent of the tax dollar goes to the county. In the Township, it is approximately 38 percent.

It is possible, however, that $750,000 in Federal revenue sharing may be taken away from the county. It was assigned to counties at the end of the year because of a change in revenue-sharing formulas. The Legislature is now talking about taking the money away from counties and giving it to those municipalities that are expected to lose money under the new formula.

If Mercer County does lose the money, Mr. Mathesius says, taxes may have to be raised one percent.

Mr. Mathesius' term of office expires in November, but he has not yet said whether he will run for a second term. He denied that the lower taxes were related to re-election. He said the tax rate has been "a significant step" lower each year.

HOSPITAL IN SUIT

Regarding Corporation. Two employees of the Medical Center have been involved in recent legal actions against the hospital.

Clark Hutchinson of Hightstown, a security guard at the hospital, has filed a suit in Chancery Division of Superior Court challenging the legality of the hospital corporation meeting of last October.

Dennis Papara, also a security guard, has won a favorable ruling from the National Labor Relations Board in a suit filed in 1981 charging the hospital with disciplining him for union activity.

At the October meeting, members of the corporation voted to change the by-laws so that only trustees will hereafter be members of the corporation. There had been over 6,000 members of the corporation — anyone who paid dues of $5 or more.

In a four-count complaint, Mr. Hutchinson charges that the hospital "deliberately" held the October meeting in spite of a request for postponement "and serious allegations of misrepresentation of facts and violation of the law" concerning a letter Mr. Hutchinson had written.

He also charges that the hospital "deliberately violated the law and is guilty of unethical practice" in "blocking all attempts by any members of the corporation except the Board of Trustees," to petition the membership in advance of the meeting. His suit alleges that the Medical Center twice refused to open its minutes and membership lists. He protests an "out-of-order" ruling, at the corporation meeting, of a motion from the floor.

The NLRB, in Mr. Papara's case, has required the Center to post a notice to employees at the Princeton House time clock and the security guards' office at the main hospital. In the notice, the hospital states it will not evaluate employees negatively because they support a union, and will remove from Mr. Papara's file certain disciplinary action taken against him.

The hospital also says it will not restrain or coerce employees who are exercising their rights under the National Labor Relations Act. In executing the agreement, the hospital states that it does not admit that it has violated any provision of the Act.

Mr. Papara did not sign the notice. He said he declined to do so because he felt the NLRB should have ordered the hospital to post the notice throughout the institution instead of solely at the two locations.

APARTMENT IS LOOTED

On John Street. A front door was broken open between 8:15 and 8:35 Monday night to enter an apartment on John Street.

Taken, police said, were a stereo receiver, cassette tape deck, Nikon camera, a Nikon 35mm lens and a speed light. Total value of all the missing items is $626.90.

No More Leaf Pick-up

The Township is no longer picking up leaves left at the curb by Township residents, and residents are requested not to put leaves in the public right-of-way because they will not be collected.

The Township's Public Works Department extends its appreciation to residents for their cooperation during the leaf pick-up season.

The same day, between 8:30 in the morning and 7:35 p.m., someone broke a storm window and an interior glass pane to enter a home on Witherspoon Street.

After climbing through the window to gain entry, the thief stole a stereo system valued at $400 and a 35mm camera worth $250. Included in the stereo system were a receiver, cassette player, turntable and two speakers.

Tennis Comments Sought

The Princeton Joint Recreation board has extended an invitation to all Princeton players who use the Community Park Courts to attend a meeting Tuesday evening at 8 in the Valley Road building meeting room when the subject of free court play and fees for 1983 will be discussed.

Before the board sets any policies, Recreation Director Donald Barr would like suggestions and comments from players using the six hard surface courts that were recently renovated. Anyone who would like to comment but is unable to attend the meeting is urged to call the Recreation Office at 921-9480 prior to the meeting.

at $450, 12 sterling silver forks ($175) and two candlestick holders ($75) were stolen last week from a Hodge Road home. It was entered early last week through an unlocked ground-floor window. Sgt. Ronald Holliday and Ptl. Dennis McManimon investigated.

The Suburban Bus terminal office at 92 Nassau Street was entered by someone who broke a window after the office was closed at 9:50 Saturday evening and 7:35 Sunday morning when it was discovered.

Police said the intruder, after gaining entry, ransacked the office and damaged a ticket dispensing machine, causing considerable damage. Nothing of value was taken from the office, police added.

Township police report an attempted entry last week at Thrift Drugs in the Princeton Shopping Center.

Someone attempted to remove a roof vent, according to Chief Anthony Pinelli, but succeeded only in setting off an alarm at 1:09 Saturday morning. Police checked the area but were unable to locate any suspect. The building had not been entered, Chief Pinelli stated.

STORES ARE CANVAS

For Spray Paint. Three Borough stores were visited overnight by a spray paint artist last week.

Police report that a white star was painted on the red front door of Talbot's, 42 Nassau Street, and a black exclamation point on the front of LaVake jewelers, 54 Nassau. A pillar in front of the Lodge store, 34 Witherspoon, was painted red. All three incidents were reported at 9 Saturday morning.

Two expensive windows were shattered by vandals last week in the Township.

A double-paned, tinted window in a new building under construction at 330 Alexander Street, was broken overnight by a rock. Valued at $250, it measured 3-feet, 10-inches by 4-feet, 8-inches.

A five by seven-foot window, valued at $200, located in one of three new buildings nearing completion that comprise Princeton Professional Park on Ewing Street, was shattered by a small projectile. Police discovered the vandalism at 12:30 Sunday morning.

BLACKBURN CONTINUED

One Hit, Three Misses. Bill Blackburn, Princeton's 56-year old drifter-philosopher, had one more brush with the law last week and three near misses.

Thursday morning he was observed by Patrolmen Randy Sutton and Anthony Federico pushing a shopping cart on Nassau Street near Tulane. Inside were his personal belongings.

Blackburn was arrested and charged with theft of mislaid property after police ascertained the cart had come from a market in the Princeton Shopping Center. "He was using the cart for his personal use," commented Chief Michael Carnevale. Issued a complaint summons, Blackburn is scheduled to appear in Borough court February 2.

That night police went to Wawa Market on lower University Place in answer to an 11:33 call complaining that Blackburn was allegedly bothering customers by trying to sell them books he had retrieved from trash. Police sent him on his way with a warning.

A few minutes before eight Saturday evening, police answered still another Blackburn call, this one reporting he was creating a disturbance at the Suburban Bus office on the corner of Nassau and Witherspoon Streets. He was quiet when the officers arrived and they took no action.

The following morning the scene shifted to the Coin Wash at the rear of 259 Nassau Street. An anonymous caller told police at 8:07 that Blackburn was creating a disturbance there.

Not so, said the police. They found him washing his clothes and calmly talking to others inside. "They did not witness any disturbing acts," said Chief Carnevale.

THEFT REPORT

Coats Are Stolen. Three coats were reported stolen Monday from Princeton University eating clubs on Prospect Avenue.

A $400 sheepskin coat, containing a pair of leather gloves valued at $60 and a $40 cashmere scarf, was stolen from the coat room of the Cap & Gown Club, 61 Prospect. Between 2 and 4 in the morning, two parkas were taken from the coat room of Cloister Inn, 65 Prospect.

One, a tan parka valued at $100, contained a $15 pair of glvoes; the second, valued at $120, had a $25 scarf in one of the pockets. Both victims are university students.

Taken from a student's locker in a Princeton High School hallway last week were a $25 claculator, nylon bag valued at $10 and a $15 make-up bag. Police report that the locker, rifled Thursday morning, had not been forced open.

A Westminster Choir College student lost $2 and credit cards where her purse was stolen from her cart which she had left unattended for a few minutes while shopping last week at the A&P in the Princeton Shopping Center, and a Leigh Avenue resident listed the theft of a $78 alternator from his car while it was parked last week in a Community Park lot between Race and John Streets.

'Silence' Date Changed

Formal arguments in the American Civil Liberties Union suit against New Jersey's new law requiring a minute of silence in public schools, will be heard at a date to be set in the future. The hearing was originally scheduled for this Tuesday by U.S. District Judge Dickinson Debevoise when he granted the temporary restraining order last week.

Princeton School Superintendent Paul Houston said on Monday that he had received a formal notice from the state ordering Princeton to "cease and desist" the minute of silence until the matter was settled. The law had never been implemented in Princeton because officials were waiting for the outcome of the suit.

Meanwhile, the New Jersey Council of Churches announced Monday that it would join the ACLU lawsuit.

DRIVER IS CHARGED

After Motor Vehicle Stop. The driver of a truck, stopped Thursday by police on Nassau Street near Pine for not having any name or address on a commercial vehicle, was later charged with two criminal violations.

George R. Rinz, 22, of Washington Avenue, Hopewell, was charged with possession of a hand gun, and possession of less than 25 grams of marijuana. According to Chief Michael Carnevale, the officer making the stop, Ptl. Randy Sutton observed a small film container on the front seat which contained marijuana, and, in plain view under the front seat, saw a .177 caliber pump pellet gun. A permit to purchase such a weapon is required in New Jersey.

Trespasser Charged. Township police last week arrested Charleton Houston, 24, whose last known address is 459 Walnut Lane, and charged him with trespassing at the Reed-Lignin property on North Harrison Street located in the former American Can building.

Houston, police said, had been warned several times in the past by the former owner and new owners about trespassing. He was arrested in the morning near a storage area.

ACCIDENT IS RESULT

Of Illegal Turn. An illegal turn at the intersection of Walnut Lane and Houghton Road early Sunday morning resulted in a two-car collision.

John R. Lepke, 63, of Valparaiso, Ind. was issued a summons by Sgt. Peter Hanley for illegally backing or turning in a street when he attempted a sudden U-turn in the intersection. His car was struck in the left rear by a car coming on Walnut Lane operated by Linda J. Fletcher, 32, 21 Red Oak Row.

A passenger in the Lepke car, Elaine Lyons-Lepke, 45, 336 State Road, was taken by patrol car to Princeton Medical Center where she was treated for an injury to her nose. Both cars were able to drive away from the scene.

Car Overturns. In one of seven skidding accidents investigated by Township police during the weekend, Abigail C. Sly, 20, 464 Ewing Street, lost control of her car on Bunn Drive at 5:50

Saturday morning and overturned.

Ms. Sly told Ptl. Renn Kaminski that she had swerved and braked to avoid a small animal. Her car ran off the roadway, struck a tree and overturned, rolling down a gully.

Ms. Sly escaped injury. Her 1977 car was described by police as a total loss.

In his report, Ptl. Kaminski noted that he saw no ice at the scene but that moderate rainfall had caused hazardous breaking conditions. There were no charges.

ESOL MARKS 10 YEARS

Of Cooperation With Library. The Princeton Public Library and the Princeton Adult School's ESOL (English for Speakers of Other Languages) program recently celebrated 10 years of successful cooperation which has made possible the libary's ESOL reading sectoin.

The ESOL section was set up for the library in 1972 by Libby Shanefield, and ESOL consultant and a teacher at the Adult School ESOL courses. The collection is made up of several hundred small paperbacks and includes novels, short stories, science fiction and suspense stories written by well-known authors. The books are available for people learning English at all levels, from basic through advanced.

The collection is housed under the ESOL lable instead of being interspersed throughout the fiction section, and it is available to anyone who holds a Princeton Public Library card.

The Adult School ESL classes are open to all adults whose native language is not English. All levels are taught, from basic to low and high intermediate, and advanced. ESOL classes will continue from the fall term, and there are still spaces available.

New students wishing to enroll must register in person on Thursday, January 27, from 8 to 9:30 p.m. in the Princeton High School cafeteria. The classes will begin Thursday, February 20, from 8 to 10 p.m. and continue through April 14. The fee is $25 for 10 lessons.

TWIN GIRLS BORN

At Medical Center. Marvin and Susan Zaveloff of 406 Prince Street, Bordentown, became the parents of twin baby girls on January 11. The twins are among 11 girls and 11 boys born at Princeton Medical Center in the week ending January 13.

Daughters were also born to Frederick and Nancy Manner, 7 Philrich Drive, Mercerville, January 7; William and Marilyn Staats, Box 393, Princeton Avenue, Rocky Hill; David and Cynthia Covino, 62 Texas Avenue, Monmouth Junction, both on January 8; John and Lisa Nielsen, 743 Prospect Avenue, on January 9; Bruce and Raymonde Harrell, 747 Mayflower Avenue, Lawrenceville, January 10;

Also to Richard and Anne Durney, 27 Hart Avenue, Hopewell, January 11; Alfred and Verena Ruckstuhl, 109 Blue Spring Road; Ronald and Beverly Rhodes, 10-01 Deer Creek Drive, Plainsboro, both on January 12; and William and Mary Anne Paghone, 152 Oak Lane, Hightstown, January 13.

Sons were born to Kerry and Amy Perrine, 41 Deerfield Park, Hightstown; G. Terence and Elaine Wilson, 21 Caldwell Drive, both on January 7; Joseph and Rosemary Silvestro, RR 2, Box 124 C, Hamilton Township, January 8; Gregory and Jane Platt, 91 Moore Street; Michael and Luanne Lebwohl, 54 Slayback Drive, Princeton Junction; Thomas and Emily Dorf, 179A Janney Lane, Yardley, Pa.; Algie and Akram Austin, 9 Carver Lane, Trenton, all on January 10;

Also to Charles and Robin Stout, 475A Jansen Avenue, Avenel, January 11; William and Linda Kahrs, 19 Hereford Drive, Princeton Junction; Frederick and Suzanne Hoedl, 3 Hadwell Court, Princeton Junction, both on January 12; and Edward and Gail Martin, 174 Old Amwell Road, Neshanic, January 13.

SKILLMAN STAYS OPEN

Money Found. The Training School for Boys at Skillman, a state facility for young offenders, will remain open. Governor Thomas H. Kean issued the order last week.

A $2 million supplemental appropriation bill passed by the Legislature provides enough to keep Skillman open, the Governor said. The bill, passed at the same time as increases in the state sales tax and income tax, includes $1.7 million for Skillman.

TO GIVE CONCERTS

To Area Youth. The New Jersey Symphony Orchestra will present two back-to-back Young People's Concerts on Friday, beginning at 9:30 a.m. at Princeton High School. Over 1700 students in grades 6-12 will hear a program entitled "Fanfares and Marches" under the Orchestra's associate conductor George Manahan.

These programs will be made possible by a grant from the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra League's Princeton chapter, of which residents Mrs. L.H. Sanford, Jr., and Mrs. Sherla Alberola are co-presidents. The chapter has made this money available from proceeds of its 1982 July 4th Concert and Fireworks event. Additional money for the upcoming Youth Concert has been made available from Commodities Corporation of Princeton.

According to Portia Sonnenfeld, music director of the High School student orchestra, the program will consist of fanfares and marches by Bizet, Beethoven, Copland, Gounoud, Ives, Rimsky-Korsakov, Sousa and Stravinsky. League chapter member Nancy Lifland is chief liaison officer for the Princeton Young People's Concerts.

The New Jersey Symphony Orchestra is able to perform many such Young People's Concerts throughout the State due to funding from a variety of organizations such as the Princeton Chapter. For further information on these programs and how to help them continue, call Judy Nachison, Director of Education, at (201) 624-3713. Contacts in the Princeton area are Mrs. Ruth Thornton, 921-6283; Mrs. Sherla Alberola, 924-1843; Mrs. Betty Sanford, 924-5579.

ZONING CHANGES TOPIC

Of Nonpartisan Meeting. Proposed zoning ordinance changes and their implications will be the main topic at the meeting of the Lawrence Township Republican Club Tuesday at 8 at the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, 2730 Princeton Pike. This will be a non-partisan meeting to which the public is invited.

AUTHOR AT WORK: Gina Cascone's book "Pagan Babies and Other Catholic Mysteries," very nearly got her tossed to the lions — or, in this case, a tiger. Based on her childhood in Catholic schools, the book aroused such controversy that a lecture by Ms. Cascone in the public library of Hamilton Township, her home town, was cancelled. She will, however, be welcomed next Wednesday, January 26 at 8 p.m. in the library of Princeton High School, where she is the next speaker in the Friends of Princeton High School Library lecture series. Proposed by the nominating committee are, Norb Donelly, president; Jesse Rosenblum, executive vice president; Bob Applegate, Peg Donelly, Winona Nash, and Pat Scassera, area vice presidents; Nanci Hedden, recording secretary; Arthur Nelson, corresponding secretary; Mary Ivins, treasurer; and Harry Kihn, finance director. Nominations will be accepted from the floor.

WORKING ON BUDGET For Schools. The preliminary adoption of the school budget, on the agenda for next Tuesday's 8 p.m. school board meeting at the high school, is chiefly designed to set the dollar figure for the current expense budget, as required by the state.

Having done that, the board can spend the next several weeks filling in the squares and deciding what to do about various programs. Board president Ann McGoldrick and Superintendent Paul Houston said this week that the board will probably not ask the state for a waiver of the budget cap.

Dr. Houston added that the school tax increase for Princeton residents will probably be under what it has been. There will be a minimal capital budget because of the proposed bond referendum. There will also be a contingency allowance, in case the district is once again subjected to an unexpected cut in state aid, as it was last summer.

RUSSIANS ARE TOPIC Of Talk-Together. "What About the Russians?: A Report on a Tour Through the Soviet Union" is the title of the January "talk together" Sunday at 3 sponsored by the Coalition for Nuclear Disarmament. The program will be held in the sanctuary of the Unitarian Church.

This summer three members of the Coalition took part in a tour of the Soviet Union sponsored by a consortium of U.S. peace organizations. The program, designed to promote understanding and peace, included a tour of eight cities located along the Volga River.

The January "talk together" will be a report on this trip by the three Coalition members who attended, Miriam Morton, Ms. Charlotte Taylor, and the Rev. Robert Moore, Coalition Coordinator. Topics to be discussed will include; life in the Soviet Union; Russian people and their attitudes towards war and peace; and the Soviet economy and industrial capacity.

The discussion leaders will also report on their participation in an international march for peace and nuclear disarmament in the city of Kiev.

NASSAU HALL SITE For Historical Society Lecture. Members and Friends of the Historical Society are invited to the Society's annual meeting this Thursday at 8 in Nassau Hall.

A brief business meeting will be followed by a lecture given by Kenneth Bowling, associate editor of the First Federal Congress Documentary Editing Project at George Washington University. The lecture, "Princeton: The Nation's Capital July-October 1783," will be the first of the Society's observances of this Bicentennial Year.

Prof. Bowling has written several articles related to the early years of our country's history, and his newest book, "Wigwam of Empire: The Idea and Location of the United States Capital," will be published in 1983.

Nassau Hall served as the capital of the United States for a brief period of time in 1783. The University has allowed the Historical Society to use Nassau Hall for this special lecture. The Society will sponsor other events throughout the year which will be designed to interpret the Bicentennial of the Continental Congress, an event with national significance.

FEBRUARY DATE SET For Tennis Championships. For the second consecutive year, the ITCA National Indoor Intercollegiate Tennis Championships will be held at Princeton University's Jadwin Gymnasium Thursday February 24 through Sunday, February 27.

Involving the 32 top singles players and 16 best doubles teams in the country, the championship includes 48 players who have been finalists in nine regional qualifying tournaments around the country. Recent winnners and finalists such as Jay Lapidus, Mel Purcell, Chip Hooper and last year's runner-up, Brad Gilbert, have earned top professional rankings. In 1982, Tim Mayotte, a former participant in this tournament, advanced as far as the semifinals of Wimbledon, and Rodney Harmon of SMU advanced to the quarterfinals of the U.S. Open. Both eventually lost to Jimmy Connors.

The tournament will be played for the benefit of the National Retinitis Pigmentosa Foundation and the Friends of Princeton Tennis. Prince Manufacturing, which sponsored the event here last winter, is joined in 1983 by Nike in underwriting the cost of this championship. Both companies also sponsor the nine regional qualifying tournaments.

The championship is again being run by Mrs. Gordon Gund and Mrs. John P. Murray, Jr. of the New Jersey Chapter of the RP Foundation. The honorary committee includes Governor Thomas H. Kean, former Governors Brendan T. Byrne and Robert B. Meyner, Ambassador and Mrs. Robert F. Goheen, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Benchley, Dennis C. Fill, Gordon Gund, Howard Head, Herbert W. Hobler, Mr. and Mrs. David Katz, Jay Lapidus, John P. Murray, Jr. and Eugene Scott.

The tennis end of the championships is in the hands of Princeton University Men's Tennis Coach David Benjamin, who is also current

Why Massage?

An Important Part Of Any Exercise Program

Three thousand years ago citizens of the Mediterranean civilizations devoted themselves to body care in the early morning. They began every day with an experience called the bath. They either bathed themselves or were bathed by attendants. Intricate exercise programs had been developed to strengthen the body while particularly stiff muscles were rubbed with a warm vegetable oil. The experience went on to include a full body massage aimed at awakening the nerves, stimulating the circulation, and freeing the action of the joints. Finally, the entire body was rubbed with a very fine oil to keep the skin elastic and supple all through the day. After about two hours, people felt ready to sit down to a leisurely breakfast. The two-hour morning bath has been replaced, in our advanced civilization, with the five-minute experience called the shower. We continue this tradition at Princeton Nautilus Fitness Center where one can start the day off right with an early 7 a.m. massage!

The understanding that education involves the parallel development of mind and body was at the heart of the philosophy of ancient societies. Since this concept cannot really be improved upon, it has simply been rediscovered periodically for the past 3,000 years. The current interest in physical fitness represents our society's bid to revive a very ancient philosophy. If good health and good feelings about yourself are your goal, exercise is not really an option, it is an absolute necessity.

Any kind of exercise, particularly running, can easily become a grim, tiresome ordeal if performance is the only goal. Even people who love to run must learn to cope with profound levels of exhaustion when the body reaches its limit. By understanding the chemistry of fatigue and learning to alter it, you can dramatically increase your endurance and, virtually, eliminate the unpleasant side effects of a long run, a hard workout, or a grueling tennis match. You can do this by using massage exactly the way the Greeks used it: to disperse the accumulated fatigue products that irritate the muscles after exercise.

Lactic and carbonic acids appear in the muscles and surrounding tissues shortly after exercise begins. These acids are waste products that cause the pain and occasional cramping many athletes and dancers suffer after a workout. Lactic acid, the main irritant, is formed when glycogen stored in the muscles and liver is burned during exercise. It must be drained out of the muscles, then sent through the complex lymph system and, finally, out of the body. Pain will persist until this process of excreting muscle wastes has been completed. That can take hours or even days. Large amounts of acidic waste place an enormous burden on the muscles that have been exercised. Fluid wastes and toxins saturate the muscles, causing the familiar irritation that often plagues athletes the morning after a workout. To eliminate this irritation, massage can stimulate the metabolic process, thereby hastening the release rate of muscle wastes.

Removal of wastes, particularly those produced by exercise, can be dramatically accelerated by massage. The massage technique for doing this not only increases your endurance while you exercise but benefits the health of the entire body. The massage frees the muscles and surrounding tissues of fatigue-causing wastes that might otherwise take weeks to be fully metabolized. Wastes concentrated in the muscles begin to disperse, following the massage movements, toward the heart. The effect on athletes? When acidic wastes are released from the muscles after exercise, pain disappears, and pleasure takes its place.

Fatigue works directly on the body by slowing muscle recovery rates. Following an exercise session, the muscle recovery rate after five minutes of rest is usually about 20 percent. A person capable of doing fifty push-ups will, after five minutes of rest, be able to do ten more. But if five minutes of massage is substituted for the five minutes of rest, muscle recovery rates are somewhere between 75 to more than 100 percent! This astonishing fact accounts for the extraordinary international record of East German track teams, whose runners are routinely massaged by individuals trained in methods of draining fatigue products from the muscles. For the same reason boxers are massaged, not rested, between rounds. When fatigue products are removed from the muscles through massage, you come out of an exercise session relaxed, smiling, and stronger.

You can add an hour of pleasure to an exercise experience, through massage, in one of two ways. One way is to have a massage after exercising or, if you don't have time for a massage after exercising, you can speed your body recovery by having a massage sometime between workouts.

Even if you are not exercising the massage will work as an absolutely splendid full body rejuvenator. Massage will go beneath the skin to promote the health of such internal organs as the liver and the brain.

On the most basic level, massage is therapeutic as an intensely pleasurable and relaxing experience. The idea of pleasure itself as therapy is grounded in our understanding that what most people need to maintain a high level of health and wellness, is to be able to have fun and to enjoy life.

Route 92 Bypass Needed.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The 250 million dollars which were designated for I-95 are now free since the N.J. turnpike has been delcared the official route through this part of New Jersey.

Pressure should be brought by all of us on the New Jersey Department of Transportation to apply for some of these funds to build Route 92, the bypass from Route 206 to Route 1. This road, for which we have been waiting for almost thrity years, will do two important things:

a) Divert a great deal of the through traffic from Princeton by directing it over to Route 1 by a road which will run well north east of the village of Kingston.

b) Provide a truck route for Kingston Trap Rock to carry their stone from their quarry either to 206 or to Route 1 by an adequate road, relieving the present heavy traffic through the village of Kingston.

It is a far better alternative than the plan Kingston Trap Rock has presented recently whereby their trucks would invade the Delaware and Raritan Canal Park, now a beautiful recreation area which we do not want to see spoiled. If Kingston Trap Rock Inc. is really as solicitous of its neighbors' welfare as it has claimed recently, let them show their good faith by offering to pay for part of Route 92.

In the meantime, concerned citizens should write:

Commissioner John Sheridan, N.J. Dept. Transportation, 1035 Parkway Ave., Trenton, N.J., urging construction of 92.

IF OUR MONEY MARKET RATE DOESN'T TEMPT YOU, OUR OTHER SERVICES WILL.

Money Market Investment Account

Maintain an average monthly balance of $2,500 or more in New Jersey National's Money Market Investment Account, and you'll earn 10.25% from now until January 31, 1983. After that, we'll continue to pay high money market rates.*

Our Money Market Account offers the security of FDIC insurance. And you can make deposits or withdrawals as often as you like at any of our 52 Red Circle offices. Or use your MAC* card at over 300 locations to gain access to your funds 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

This account alone is a pretty good reason for banking with New Jersey National. But it's far from being the only one. For instance, consider the following services...

Discount Brokerage Service

If you trade in the market, this service can save you up to 70% on securities transactions as compared to full-cost brokerage firm commissions (based on a 1982 telephone survey). And in conjunction with your Money Market Account, it will allow you to maximize your return on investable funds.

If the average monthly balance falls below $2,500, federal regulations require an interest rate of 5¼% for that period. Average monthly balances below $500 are subject to a service charge of $5. The 10.25% offer applies only to personal Money Market Investment Accounts.*

Insured Money Market Checking

This new checking account pays high money market rates on your investable balance. It requires a minimum opening deposit and average monthly balance of at least $2,500. Call or visit us for current rate and detailed information on our new Insured Money Market Checking account, which is available to individuals, municipalities and non-profit organizations.

Other checking options

Red Circle Checking—It's free with a minimum monthly balance of $400.

Red Circle NOW Account—Free with a minimum monthly balance of $1,000 or more, plus your money earns 5¼% interest.

Full Circle Plus—Free with a minimum monthly balance of $2,000 or more, and you earn 5¼% interest. Plus you get VISA/MasterCard with no annual fee, free travelers' checks, and more.

The next step

Open your Money Market Account today by filling in and mailing the coupon. And if you'd like more information on our Discount Brokerage Service or any of the above accounts, call our toll-free Customer Service number: 800-222-0033.

Princeton Regional School HIGHLIGHTS

Highlights is sponsored and prepared by the Parent Teacher Organization of the Princeton Regional Schools.

Black History Club of PHS

The Black History Club of PHS, which meets every Wednesday, was organized in 1981 by students Marjorie Toussaint and Gregory Smith to further appreciation of black culture. To achieve this objective, the group utilizes at its weekly meetings research, literature, films, discussion and guest speakers. Field trips are also an integral part of the program.

The initial venture of the Club was to visit Philadelphia. This experience included a visit to the Afro-American Museum; attendance at the Federal Court session of Judge Moore and dinner at a soul food restaurant. A visit to New York is projected.

The group also sponsored a dinner at Princeton Community Village which brought together students, parents, teachers and leaders of the black community to discuss the black experience. Another dinner is being planned for this semester.

To introduce Black History Month, the play, "Wine in the Wilderness", by Alice Childress will be presented at PHS on January 26 at 1:30 p.m. and on January 27 at 8 p.m. Terence Phox, Paige Walden, Kyle Stephens, Kenneth McKellar and Allison Hoagland will participate in this production which is under the direction of Mrs. Carol Wimberg.

The 1982-83 officers of the Club are: President, Marjorie Toussaint; Vice President, Tony Turner; Secretary, Carine Toussaint; Treasurer, Madinah Howard; Moderator, Mr. Henry Allegretti. Club members are: Michelle Cumberbatch, Lisa Bess, Eddie Rice, Allison Hoagland, Suzette Cumberbatch, Dellice McElroy, Angela Keely, Georgiana Cumberbatch, Paige Walden, Shawn Hutchins, Anthony Paige, Timothy Howard and DeLaine McElroy.

SPECIAL BAND DUE

For Contra Dancing. A New England contradance bands, "Swallowtail" will present New England contra dancing at 185 Nassau Street on Saturday from 2 until 5 and again from 7:30 until 10:30. A pot luck dinner will begin at 5:30, and all those planning to attend should bring a prepared dish to share.

The band's two callers teach all the dances so that newcomers and experienced dancers alike can join in the fun. Swallowtail accompanies all dances with traditional tunes from New England and the British Isles.

One of the band's distinctive characteristics is its diverse instrumentation and the variety of textures that result. In addition to fiddle, guitar, mandolin, and piano, the band performs on hammered dulcimer, concertina, recorder, flute, fife, and oboe, as well as bodhran, spoons and bones.

The cost for the afternoon or evening dances is $3, or $5 for the entire event. For further information, contact Princeton Country Dancers at 466-3896 or 924-6763.

KNOW A VOLUNTEER?

Nominations Sought. If you know a volunteer who has given "outstanding service" over the years, you are invited to nominate the volunteer for the annual Robert E. Clancy Award presented by the Council of Community Services. This will be the third year of the award.

The first recipient was Geraldine Boone, who had contributed over 30,000 hours of service to more than half a dozen agencies. Last year's winner was Tom Cooper, who had spent about 25 hours a week on active duty with the Hopewell Fire Department and Emergency Medical Unit. In addition, Amy Beaulieu and Tara Bell received a youth award for their work in West Windsor-Plainsboro High School.

Nominations may be made by individuals, agencies or organizations in the area served by the Council. Awards will be made at a luncheon during National Volunteer Week, April 17-23. A hand-wrought silver and marble trophy designed by William deMatteo will be presented to the winner.

FIVE WORKSHOPS SET

By Writers' Center. The Princeton Writers' Center will offer five workshops in its winter term including a new 10-week course in screenwriting. Workshops will start the week of January 24.

The screenwriting shop will be given by Joan Modzelewski, who has written drama criticism as well as film scripts. Playwright Dan Friedman will again offer playwriting and advanced playwriting. These courses will be held Thursday evenings and will last 10 weeks.

Two eight-week workshops will be given Tuesdays from 8 to 10. Princeton author Flora Davis will teach "Fiction and Nonfiction: Sketching from Life," on ways to transform everyday experience into fiction or feature articles. David Keller will offer a poetry workshop; his poems have been published in more than 40 literary journals, and he has been on the faculty of the Frost Place Festival of Poetry in new Hampshire for the past three years.

On Sunday, January 30, from 1:30 to 4:30 there will be a PWC seminar, "Breaking into Print: How to Get Published in a Tight Market," featuring Eileen Fallon, a literary agent with Barbara Lowenstein Associates, who will talk about the types of genre fiction that are selling now. Ms. Fallon was formerly an editor with Jove Press, where she worked on general as well as genre fiction.

Enrollment for all events is limited. Some scholarships are available. To register write to Princeton Writers' Center, 10 Nassau Street or call 924-3511.

WOMEN AND MONEY

Topic in Rocky Hill. The Mary Jacobs Library in Rocky Hill will present "Making Your Money Work For You," a Women in the Community film and lecture program on Thursday, January 27, at 7:30.

The guest speaker will be Linda Solway, an independent financial consultant, who will discuss women and money management. The film "Making Your Money Work For You" will show four women in need of different financial planning considerations. Ms. Solway will also conduct a discussion with the audience on the money problems that everyone faces as well as those unique to women.

This program is free and open to the public. For further information, please call the library at 924-7073.

ACTIVISTS SOUGHT

By Nuclear Disarmament Group. The Princeton Political Action Committee of the Coalition for Nuclear Disarmament will meet on Tuesday at 8 at First Baptist Church, located at the intersection of Paul Robeson Place and John Street. Princeton residents interested in doing political work to promote nuclear disarmament are urged to come.

In recent months, the Coalition's Political Action Committee promoted the Nuclear Freeze Referendum, which received 79 percent of the Princeton vote on November 2. Subsequently, the Committee successfully lobbied central New Jersey's Representatives opposed production funds for the MX, with Representative James Courter voting for production.

Among other projects, the Committee will now focus on getting the Congress to approve a Nuclear Freeze Resolution, which was narrowly defeated in the House of Representatives last summer. The Freeze was re-introduced as HJR2 on January 3, with 160 co-sponsors, including Representative Chris Smith and five other New Jersey Representatives.

The Freeze lobbying effort will culminate with a National Citizens Lobby in Washington on March 7-8. It is hoped at least 10 people will attend from every Congressional District in the nation.

Hold Auditions

All the parts except that of the King in the Mercer Musical Theatre Association production of "The King and I" are open for audition, and singers are invited to try out on Saturday, January 22 in Kendall Theatre, Trenton State College. The production date is Sunday, April 17 at 3.

Children's auditions will be from 10 until noon. Adult singers and dancers may try out between noon and 3. Appointments may be made by calling 394-7514.

If you are a singer, you should be prepared to sing a number from "The King and I," or a similar selection from another source. If you are a dancer, you will be given a dance combination at the audition and asked to learn it.

A large chorus, children's chorus, dancers and nine principal roles will be filled at the auditions. Richard Anzuini and Robert Parrish are the artistic directors of the Mercer Musical Theatre Association and Mr. Parrish will sing the role of the King. Ruth Kalatuka will be in charge of stage direction and Mr. Anzuini of musical direction.

SCIENCE? SUPER!

At State Museum. Computers and dinosaurs, live snakes and hypnotized chickens — the New Jersey State Museum Super Science Weekend III will have them all and then some: Saturday, January 29 from 9 to 5 and Sunday, January 30 from noon to 5 at the Museum, on West State Street in Trenton.

Six performances by the Wizards of Chemistry will be given over the two-day period for an admission of $1. All other events are free.

The Wizards are four science teachers from north Jersey who have a routine featuring spectacular chemical reactions. "Entertaining for all ages," the Museum says.

On Saturday morning, James H. Newquist of the National Association of Rocketry will present a program in the auditorium, and on Saturday and Sunday, Chandler Dennis of Stockton State College will demonsrate theories of cryogenics.

Human heredity will be explored Saturday morning by Charles Green of Glassboro Sate College. That afternoon, New Jersey Bell's show, "Science Is Not Magic," will be given, and on Sunday afternoon, scientists from the New Jersey Institute of Technology will use slides and a computer for an energy program.

On the Museum's first floor, there will be demonstrations of various principles of physics by members of the American Association of Physics Teachers, a hands-on showing of snakes and reptiles by herpetologists Ernst Hofmann and Diane Visintini; discussions of space programs and a demonstration organized by Doris White of William Paterson State College in which Ms. White will hypnotize a chicken, show how to map chromosomes and what goes on in bird metabolism.

"Solar System Storybook", in the planetarium, will introduce children of kindergarten age to astronomy. It will alternate with "Death of the Dinosaurs," a program for young adults and older, that discusses the relationship between astronomical events and extinction of certain species.

Regular planetarium scheduling will be speeded up to provide 15 shows of 45 minutes each during the two days.

"Common Chemicals: Uncommon Views" is an exhibit of photomicrographs of familiar things like perfumes, flavorings, medicines and antiseptics. A companion exhibit is "New Jersey Science and Industry."

Those who attend Super Science Weekend will receive a free button, and will be able to visit the hall of natural sciences, which ranges from the beginning of the universe to contemporary ecology, and the Sisler Collection of North American mammals, including stuffed bears, deer and native cats in natural settings.

---

CHILDREN AND TV

Special Week Planned. President Reagan has signed a joint Congressional Resolution proclaiming March 13 through 19 as National Children and Television Week.

According to Nicholas B. Van Dyck, executive director of the National Council for Children and Television which initiated the project, the week will focus attention on the role of television in the lives of children and their families. The NCCT has planned special events for teachers and leaders in the TV industry during the week to augment its ongoing series of educational services for these groups. It is also encouraging school boards and city councils to support the week through activities on the local level.

Mr. Van Dyck, a Queenston Place resident, stresses that the NCCT is not an advocacy group but an educational organization. It runs workshops, seminars and training programs designed to appeal to broadcasters and the educational community. The theme of the week-long event is "All Your Time is Prime Time ... Think About It." The NCCT has asked TV stations to carry spots incorporating this slogan and to schedule programming of special interest to children and the family.

The NCCT also is enlisting the support for its project from educational institutions, professional associations, child advocacy groups and advertisers.

Rate Cut Asked

Public Service has said that it will ask the Board of Public Utilities for permission to cut its rates effective February 1.

The cut, amounting to $104 million, would mean a reduction of about 2.5 percent in gas and electricity costs for the utility's 1.5 million customers.

Public Service said it could make the cuts because of the stable price of oil and coal. A spokesman also said the Salem nuclear generating station had been feeding energy into the system.

COURTS ARE AVAILABLE

At County Tennis Center. The Mercer County Park Commission has announced that seasonal courts for the Mercer County indoor public tennis center are still available for the second half of the season - a 15-week period beginning Friday.

Regular time slots are available on Monday thru Friday during the day and Saturday evening. The rate four half-season courts is $200 for residents, $230 for non-residents. Call 989-6530 for available times remaining.

The only available prime time slot is Friday evening at 9. The rate is $250 for residents, $280 for non-residents.

LISTENING IS TOPIC

Of Workshop. "Listening To Others" is the title of the day-long work-shop to be given Sunday, January 30, by Pat Brown, a pastoral counselor and staff member of The Center Within, at 3125 Route 27 in Franklin Park.

The workshop is planned both for those in the helping professions and for all who wish to increase their sensitivity to others.

This is the first in the Center Sundays series of monthly workshops sponsored by The Center Within. It will begin at

BOY SCOUT SHOW SET

At Quakerbridge Mall. The Fourth Annual Boy Scouts of America show at the Quakerbridge Mall will be held Saturday, March 5, from 10 to 5. The show, which is open to the public with free admission, will provide demonstrations of the many activities that are part of the Explorer, Boy Scout and Cub Scout programs.

One of the attractions at last year's show was the Pinewood Derby. Cub Scouts carve small blocks of pine wood into the shape of race cars, paint and decorate them, attach wheels, then race the cars down a special gravity track. Strict rules govern weight and size of the cars. Because the races ran overtime last year, special elimination races have been scheduled Friday evening, March 4. The winners of the elimination will race most of the day the following Saturday.

Radio Station WHWH is sponsoring an Explorer Troop that will participate in live broadcast from the mall the day of the show. Chicken Man, featured on Radio Station WPST, will make a personal appearance there. Chief Warrant Officer Franklin V. Fisher will conduct a live concert of the 63rd Army Band beginning at 2:30 p.m.

Over 200 scouting units, representing over 5,000 boys in Warren, Hunterdon, Somerset, Mercer, Middlesex and Monmouth counties are members of the George Washington Council sponsoring the Scouting Show.

APPLICATIONS DUE

For Scholarships. Applications for the scholarships to be awarded by the Women's College Club are now available through the Guidance Departments at Hun School, Princeton Day School, Princeton High School and Stuart Country Day School. Completed applications are to be returned on or before February 28, 1983 to these departments.

Students who wish to apply for these awards must be senior girls who have attended Princeton secondary schools for at least two years, have applied to an accredited four year American college or university, and have taken the College Board Scholastic Aptitude Test or the American College Test.

The grants are made on the bases of financial need, scholastic standing, qualities of leadership and character, extra-curricular activities and promise of service.

The Women's College Club is committed to raising funds for these awards to aid qualified girls. Funds for these scholarships come from membership dues, donations and from the annual Card Party-Silent Auction to be held in March.

The members of the Scholarship Committee are Mrs. Fannie Floyd, Mrs. Anne Frazier, Mrs. Martha Hartmann, Mrs. Rita Ludlum, Mrs. Del Stifel and Mrs. Mollie Updike, chairperson.

PHOTOGRAPHY CONTEST

At Library. Amateur photographers are invited to enter the National Library Week Amateur Photography contest, sponsored by the Public Library. All amateur photographers residing in the state of New Jersey are eligible.

Photographs may be taken of people using library facilities or attending library programs. Prizes will be awarded in each of seven categories, along with 50 honorable mentions. The entry deadline is February 15. For contest rules and details, inquire at the Information Desk of the Library, 924-9529.

SPECIAL PERFORMANCE

For Society's Meeting. The Lawrence Historical Society invites members and friends to its annual meeting Sunday from 2-4 p.m. at the theatre in the student center building of Rider College.

"A Visit with Charles Wilson Peale" will be performed by the Philadelphia Actors' Theatre. This is a presentation about the early American artist, who had 17 children, three wives and a five-legged, two-tailed cow.

Admission is free.

NONVIOLENCE TOPIC

Of Workshop. "Nonviolent Action in American History" is the title of the second annual workshop on nonviolence, which will take place on Tuesday, at Rider College.

The keynote address will be given by Bernard Weisberger, author of several popular American history textbooks. He will discuss the falsification of history encouraged by textbook publishers, with steps teachers can take to correct it.

Three seminars will be offered. Margaret Bacon, author of a recent biography of Luretia Mott, will lead a seminar on nonviolence and the women's movement, with emphasis on the 19th century. Jon Bloom, currently associated with the Wagner Labor Archives, will discuss nonviolent action in the American labor movement. Dr. Walter Conser of the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, will discuss nonviolent action during the colonial period.

Registration for the workshop, which is jointly sponsored by the Princeton Fellowship of Reconcilication and the New Jersey Council for the Social Studies, is $18, including lunch. Scholarships are availalbe. For further details, contact Dr. David Pierfy at 896-5176.

Alert for Cleaning Product

Princeton residents are asked to be on the look-out for door-to-door salesmen selling a cleaning product manufactured by Hy-Pro Chemical Corp. in Arlington, Tex.

The Mercer County Division of Consumer Affairs has received a complaint against a product manufactured by this company and sold door-to-door in this area. The complaint alleges that the product as sold, is markedly inferior in performance to the product shown in a home demonstration.

Investigation has turned up the fact that the company is the subject of an intense investigation by consumer protection officials in Texas, and that a sample of the company's cleaning product has been forwarded to the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission for toxicity testing. In addition, Wisconsin has initiated consumer fraud litigation against S&A Chemical, which is allegedly a sales affiliate of Hy-Pro.

At a meeting of Township Committee last Monday, Mayor Winthrop Pike asked residents to report any instances of activity by Hy-Pro Chemical Corp. to Township officials. The Township Police Department, which issues door-to-door sales permits, has also been alerted.

Loop Bus Saved

Cut, reprieved and now set free — Princeton's Loop Bus was saved Tuesday by NJ Transit.

So were the Dinky ticket agent and student discount fares.

Tuesday's action is for this year — anyway. Nobody knows, after that.

Over 50 people showed up in mid-December at a hearing in Trenton protesting elimination of various bus routes. Jerome C. Premo, NJ Transit director, postponed the cuts after that hearing so the agency could have time to ponder the comments made.

According to Barbara Sigmund, former Mercer County Freeholder, there will be a "restructuring" of the Loop, perhaps restoring the dual Inner-Outer loop system.

PEOPLE In The News

Dr. Ernest Boyer Receives Award From The William Moss Institute

Dr. Ernest Boyer of Cherry Valley Road is one of six prominent Americans who were honored at The William Moss Institute Awards Banquet in Washington, D.C. last week.

Dr. Boyer is president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Higher Education which has relocated from Washington to Princeton in the past year. He received an award in education, one of five categories determined by the Institute's nationwide survey that asked Americans to name those topics about which they had the greatest concern for the future and about which they would like more information. Other recipients included Walter Cronkite in communications, Jonas Salk in health and medicine, Paul Samuelson in economics, William Webster in control of crime and Alvin Weinberg in energy.

The Moss awards are in the form of two-year graduate fellowships bearing the awardees name and given to deserving students interested in studying the disciplines of the awardees. The fellowships will be at The American University.

The William Moss Institute, is an "institute for studying life in the world of tomorrow." It presents annual awards to those individuals who have done the most to advance the thought, the research or the technology in their particular areas of endeavor, and as a result, have had an unparalleled impact on the future course of that field.

Dr. Boyer is considered one of the leading administrators and educational innovators of the country. He introduced far-reaching curricular and administrative innovations into the educational system of the State University of New York. As Chancellor, he initiated a five-year review of college presidents, developed an experimental three-year A.B. degree program, and negotiated the first undergraduate exchange program with the Soviet Union.

Dr. Boyer served as the 23rd Commissioner of Education of the United States from 1977 to 1979. During his term of office he strongly emphasized excellence in education and the centrality of language. From 1955 to 1977 he served in administrative positions with the State University of New York, University of California, Santa Barbara, Western College Association, and Upland College.

Natalie D. Cruickshank, Township Clerk, has been awarded a scholarship by the Municipal Clerks' Association of New Jersey for one of the courses necessary toward the RMC, Registered Municipal Clerk designation.

The RMC program was developed to provide the New Jersey municipalities with knowledgeable professional clerks. Mrs. Cruickshank is serving her second year as Township Clerk.

David C. Scott of 314 Western Way has been named vice president of sales and director of marketing for The Lanman Companies, a graphic arts firm with manufacturing plants in Washington, D.C., Richmond, Va., and Orlando, Fla. The company produces color separations, film and related services for clients such as National Geographic Society, Smithsonian Institute, Time-Life Books, National Wildlife Federation, E.I. DuPont and others.

Mr. Scott graduated in 1956 from Princeton Day School and received a B.A. from Trinity College in Hartford, Conn. He was previously associated with Rand McNally Co.

Estelle Best of Skillman, has been appointed a couselor at Priority Systems for Employee Assistance, a service of Overlook Hospital, Summit. She is one of several professionals responsible for providing a full range of counseling services to employees and household family members of clients subscribing to the Priority Systems service.

Prior to joining Priority Systems, Ms. Best was Director, Information, Education and Public Relations, Planned Parenthood Association of the Mercer area in Trenton. Her responsibilities included consultation and training of community professionals.

Earlier in her career as social worker, St. Peter's Medical Center, New Brunswick, she conducted individual and family counseling; co-led group education sessions and assisted in the design and implementation of a successful program for high-risk teenage patients.

Prior to that position, she was social work counselor with the Jewish Family Service of Greater Mercer County, Ewing, where she provided individual, couple and family therapy for clients ranging in age from five to mid-80's.

Anthony Nini, former asssistant controller at Princeton University, has been named assistant controller for the Center for Health Affairs.

Mr. Nini joined CHA in 1981 as an accountant and was appointed director of fiscal services last February. He has worked as a financial analyst for Manufacturers Hanover Corp of New York and was formerly an accountant with Arthur Andersen & Co. of New York. He received a master's degree in business administration from New York University and a bachelor's degree from Villanova University.

He is a CPA candidate and an adjunct professor of accounting at Mercer County Community College.

Donna C. Pressma of 40 Dogwood Lane has been selected executive director of the Jewish Family and Children's Agency of Philadelphia, the agency created earlier this month through the merger of the Association for Jewish Children and Jewish Family Service. This makes Mrs. Pressma, 38, the only woman to hold the top post of a major metropolitan Jewish family or children's agency in this country and Canada.

Mrs. Pressma comes to Philadelphia from Chicago where she has been executive director of the Jewish Children's Bureau since 1979. During her three years in Chicago, Mrs. Pressma developed a demonstration project to provide therapeutic family day care for children from infancy to age 12; initiated a lecture series on such subjects as "The Lonely and Neglected Child," and was appointed by the Governor of Illinois to the state's task force on troubled adolescents.

Before coming to Chicago, Mrs. Pressma was director of Children and Youth Services for the State of Connecticut where she managed a budget of 40 million and a staff of 600. During that time, she was appointed by the late Governor Ella Grasso to the Juvenile Justic Advisory Council of the Connecticut Justice Commissin.

In earlier positions in Louisville, Ky., Mrs. Pressma directed a project for children and families in crisis; was social work coordinator to 12 inner city day care centers, and was field placement supervisor for Kent School of Social Work and the University of Louisville's Department of Psychiatry.

She holds a master's degree from the Smith College School of Social Work and is now a clinical assistant professor at the college. Mrs. Pressma is a noted lecturer and workshop participant at national conferences on subjects ranging from "The Changing Role of Jewish Women" to "Violence In The Family." She is married to Norbert Fruehauf, director of strategic planning for the Council of Jewish Federations in New York and is the mother of two daughters.

Alyson J. McGwire, 10 Morningside Drive, Pennington, has been named to the Dean's List at Elizabethtown College, Elizabethtown, Pa.

Barbara A. Frazier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Frazier of Herrontown Road, received a bachelor's degree in history at winter commencement ceremonies at the University of New Hampshire.

Timothy J. Willey, son of Andrew R. and Joan M. Willey of Pennington, has been promoted in the U.S. Air Force to the rank of airman first class. He is an aircraft maintenance specialist at Dover Air Force Base, Del., with the 436th Organizational Maintenance Squadron.

He is a 1980 graduate of Hopewell Valley High School, Pennington.

Victor Brombert, Henry Putnam University Professor of Romance and Comparative Literatures at Princeton University, has been elected to a four year term on the educational advisory board of the John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation.

C. Andrew Brauer of Overbrook Drive has been named a vice president of New York Life Insurance Company. He is in the strategic planning department.

Mr. Brauer joined New York Life's investment department as an investment analyst in 1971. He was promoted to assistant vice president in 1977 and second vice president in 1979. He moved to strategic planning when the department was formed in 1981.

A 1965 graduate of Princeton University with a B.S.E. in chemical engineering, Mr. Brauer earned an M.B.A. at Rutgers University in 1971. He served in the U.S. Army as a first lieutenant.

Mr. Brauer and his wife, Nancy, have three children. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Brauer, also live in Princeton.

Landau's Too, A Testing Ground for Landau's, Will Close Saturday, January 29 after 11 Years

Landau's Too, which has served as a retail sidekick and market tester for the original Landau store at 114 Nassau Street, will close at the end of this month. The going-out-of-busines sale will begin this Thursday, and the store will close for good on Saturday, January 29.

As Robert Landau describes it, all the original reasons for opening a second store 11 years ago have since dissipated, and although he says it was "ego-satisfying" to have more than one store, he and his brother, Henry, who runs the family business with a mail order business, the Icelandic woolens and the traditional separates for women that the store has always carried. There wasn't enough space for the mail order merchandise and the regular stock, but it was really as insurance against the possibility of having to close the main store that the new store was opened at 126 Nassau Street in space vacated by Varsity Sport and The Game Room.

The Landaus made one space out of the two and called it Emphasis. The plan was to sell designer sportswear and formal attire. Four years later the store was renamed Landau's Too with apparel for teens and juniors. In 1979 teens were eliminated, and the store sold to juniors and petities. Last spring the merchandise was strictly for petite women.

Changing Focus. "It was a groping process to find something successful at a level relative to the success of the main store," Robert says. It was also "a great testing store for new things we didn't think would sell in the main store.

Among these were hot pants and coveralls, each of which had a burst of popularity before the fad subsided and were only sold in Landau's Too. However, Lanz granny gowns, which he thought would never sell to women, sold so consistently well that they were transferred and sold even better in the main store. Robert likens Landau's Too to a farm team for the big league.

The closing is not because the store was not making money, but with two additional stores in Vermont, one of which has a professional manager, the Landau brothers were finding themselves paying less time together, realize, "we can't be everything to everybody -- we're just Landau's."

The second store was opened in 1972 when the Landaus were involved in a dispute with their landlord which has since been resolved. Business was "growing like crazy," according to Robert, and less attention to Landau's Too. They have moved the mail order business to a warehouse in West Windsor, which leaves enough space in the basement at 114 Nassau Street for the regular stock. They have a long term lease and they are philosophical about the closing.

"We were groping for a different identity," Robert says, "and in the process we grew up and learned who we are and what we should be. Landau's Too allowed us to experiment without tarnishing the image of Landau's."

All Landau's Too employees will be absorbed into Landau's, with the exception of Grace Perone, who has been with the business for 25 years, the last three at the second store, and who is going to retire.

He reports there has been a flurry of interest in the space to be vacated by the store, which is owned by a real estate investment group in Chatham headed by a Princeton University graduate, and he expects an announcement soon as to who the next tenant will be.

OBITUARIES

William R. Bonthron

William R. Bonthron, 70, an outstanding college track star in the 1930's, died January 17 at his home on the Great Road.

Mr. Bonthron was born in Detroit and had lived in Princeton for more than 30 years. He attended Exeter Academy and graduated from Princeton University with the Class of 1934. He received his master's degree in business administration from New York University and was a Navy veteran of World War II. He retired in 1973 from Price Waterhouse Co., where he had been associated for many years as a tax manager.

In 1934 he defeated Glen Cunningham in Madison Square Garden the Baxter Mile at the New York Athletic Club Games. The next spring he finished second to Cunningham in the mile run at a Princeton invitational meet, a race in which they both bettered the then existing world record set by Jack Lovelock.

Also in 1934 he set the world record that stood for many years in the 1500-metre event. He was the 1934 winner of the Sullivan Award presented to the outstanding amateur athlete in the United States. In 1967 he was elected to the Helms Hall Track and Field Hall of Fame.

Mr. Bonthron was a member, past treasurer and past president of the Springdale Golf Club. He was also a member and past treasurer of Bedens Brook Club.

Survivors include his wife, Jane Hand Bonthron; three daughters, Katama Bonthron of Munich, Germany, Mrs. John K. Waters Jr. of Hamilton, Mass., and Mrs. Gilbert Ruff of Albany, Calif.; three sons, W. James Bonthron of Ottawa, Canada, William D. Bonthron of La Honda, Calif.; and Thomas S. Bonthron of Santa Cruz, Calif.; and six grandchildren.

A memorial service will be held Saturday at 11 at Nassau Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Dr. Wallace M. Alston Jr., senior minister, officiating. Private burial was in Princeton Cemetery under the direction of the Kimble Funeral Home. Memorial contributions may be made to either the Princeton Child Development Institute or the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad.

Michael M. Stewart, vice president of the Rockefeller Foundation and Associate Professor of Medicine at the Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons, died at Roosevelt Hospital in New York City on January 15 of complications of abdominal surgery. He was 46 years old and lived in New Rochelle, New York.

A native of Princeton, Dr. Stewart was a graduate of Hotchkiss School and Princeton University, class of 1957, both of which he later served as trustee. Following graduation he entered active duty with the Navy as an intelligence officer and then attended New College, Oxford as a Rhodes Scholar. He received his M.D. from Harvard in 1965, completed his clinical training in internal medicine at the Massachusetts General Hospital, and received a master's degree in Public Health from Harvard in 1968.

From 1969 to 1973 he was a member of the Rockefeller Foundation's Thailand field staff, developing a community health teaching program at the new Ramathibodi Faculty of Medicine in Bangkok. In 1973 he returned to Mt. Sinai School of Medicine in New York and directed ambulatory care, community medicine, and health services research activities at City Hospital Center at Elmhurst (Queens) from 1973 to 1976.

Thereafter he became an attending physician at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center and director of its Center for Community Health Systems. In 1981 he joined the Rockefeller Foundation again as vice president for Programs.

A Fellow of the American College of Physicians, Dr. Stewart served on the board and committees of numerous medical and public health organizations. He was the author of more than 50 articles and book chapters on international health, ambulatory care, medical education and applied health service research. He also published a book of poetry.

An active Episcopalian, Dr. Stewart was a vestryman of the Parish of Trinity Church, Manhattan, a former vestryman of St. John's Church, Larchmont, N.Y., and a licensed lay reader in the diocese of New York.

Survivors include his wife, the former Anne Fritts, three sons, Andrew, Christopher and Michael, a daughter Mary, his father, James P. Stewart of Mountain Avenue; a brother, David P. Stewart of Arlington, Va. and a sister, Mrs. Beverly Almgren of Princeton.

A requiem was held at the Church of St. James the Less, Scarsdale.

Julia Fearey Habgood, 44, of Princeton, died January 16 at Chester-Crozer Medical Center, Chester, Pa.

Born in New Haven, Conn., she had lived in Princeton for 19 years. She attended Chapin School in New York City, the Farmington School in Farmington, Conn., and Vassar College in Poughkeepsie, N.Y. A board member of the Vassar Club of Central New Jersey, she was co-chairman of the Christmas in Princeton House Tours for the benefit of the Association of the N.J. Neuro-Psychiatric Institute in Skillman.

Surviving are a son, Robert P. IV and a daughter, Mary L. Habgood, both of Princeton; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morton Fearey; a sister, Mary F. Lollis; and two brothers, Morton Fearey Jr. and John L.S. Fearey, all of New York City.

CHURCH BUYS VAN

To Transport Elderly. Nassau Presbyterian Church has purchased a van with which to provide a way of coming to church for those who do not have transportation.

The van is expected to be delivered in late January or early February and will immediately begin a regular Sunday route between Meadow Lakes Village in Hightstown and Nassau Church by way of Mercer Street.

After the 10 a.m. service, the van will make two trips, one for those who wish to return home after worship and one for those who wish to stay for adult education or brunch.

DISCUSSION PLANNED

On Raising Jewish Children. Princeton Hadassah will present a round table discussion on the issues and problems of "Raising a Jewish Child in a Christian World."

A panel including Rabbi Feld and Rabbi Gottlieb of the Princeton University Hillel, Walter Meyer of the West Windsor School Board, and Barbara Curran of Hadassah will present its views. There will be time for audience questions.

The meeting, open to the public, will be held Wednesday, January 26 at 8:15 in the Princeton Jewish Center.

BULLETIN NOTES

A Smorgasbord will be sponsored by the women of Mt. Pisgah A.M.E. on Sunday, January 30 starting at 1:30 until 5. The donation for adults is $5 and for children under 12, $3.50.

Chairpersons for the event are Johnnie Scott and Estelle Briscoe. All are invited. For further information call the church, 924-9017.

The Rev. Cynthia Jarvis will be heard this Sunday at 7:30 a.m. on radio station WHWH in the "Heart of Sunday Morning," the radio ministry of Nassau Presbyterian Church. Her sermon topic will be "Sending My Very Heart."

NEW GRIGGSTOWN LISTING

Overlooking the Delaware-Raritan Canal, this Colonial built in 1751, is one of the most charming homes in the area. A fan window accents the front door, large hall, living room with fireplace, library with bookcases and fireplace, corner cupboard enhances the dining room, breakfast room, kitchen, pantry, screened porch and powder room. Wide floor boards and arched doorways are lovely features from yesteryear. Second floor master bedroom with fireplace and bath, four family bedrooms, bath and back stairway. Third floor hideaway and attic storage. Boxwood grace a terraced garden. Three car garage plus storage. That hard to find well maintained historic house!

A CONTEMPORARY CAPE COD?

Though this may appear a contradiction in terms, this architect designed country house while not without a very modern flavor, decidedly has roots in coastal Massachusetts. Narrow weatherboard, steeply-gabled roofs, slender casement windows and a massive brick chimney are all brought together in a very honest contemporary fashion with side window walls, skylights, etc. Besides living room with fireplace, dining room, and study, there is a pantry, kitchen, breakfast room plus four bedrooms and three baths. Large playroom with fireplace in the basement. Shaded deck and sparkling Sylvan pool accessible from living room and master bedroom. Two-car garage. On three quarters of a wooded acre in western Princeton Township. $275,000

HOPEWELL

A beautiful barn of a place! This handsome gambrel roof barn was converted into a spacious and unusual house at the direction of a leading Princeton architect. Now further improved by the present owner the floor plan includes on one floor an entry hall with flagstone floor, a huge living room - dining room with fireplace and sunken conversation area, modern kitchen with breakfast area, a separate study, four bedrooms, two baths. Plus on the upper level a huge loft area for expansion or storage and a completely separate studio apartment with large studio room, kitchenette, bath and sleeping loft. Special features include old panelling, wide pine floors, original beams, a very efficient Tarm furnace burning coal, wood or oil, enclosed courtyard, screen porch, two-car garage with studio/workshop. All on 1.5 acres between Pennington and Princeton. Lovely country views, quiet surroundings. FINANCING AVAILABLE TO QUALIFIED BUYER, $50,000 for 3 years at 12%.

ROLLING HILL ROAD

An uncommon Colonial with classic charm. Spectacular living room with stone fireplace and high ceiling framed in massive hand-hewn oak beams; dining room with bay window and French doors to a stone terrace; big, sunny modern kitchen; pine panelled study with fireplace; ground floor bedroom, bath and lavatory. Three twin bedrooms and two full baths on second. Attic, basement, two-car garage. Special features include plaster walls, random oak floors, slate roof, and rich architectural detail throughout. On over two beautiful acres adjoining Bedens Brook Country Club. More land available. $340,000

AVAILABLE NOW

Two hundred years young and more beautiful than ever. This attractive New Jersey farmhouse on four high private acres is a lovely sight. Located in a quiet section of West Windsor yet only five minutes from the train station and ten minutes from Princeton. Five rooms including a bedroom and full bath, two fireplaces, and country kitchen on first floor. Four bedrooms, two baths, and study on second. Loads of built-in bookshelves, plaster walls and hardwood floors. Beautiful screen porch with brick floor, brick patio, two story barn. Magnificent mature shade trees. $248,500

RIDGEVIEW ROAD

Delightfully secluded on ten acres, a carefully designed Contemporary with loads of interesting features. Flagstone entry, living room 16 x 22 with an expanse of glass on one wall, fireplace, wet bar, library with bookcases, separate dining room, convenient kitchen, master suite with woodburning stove, large dressing area and bath, plus two other bedrooms and bath. Finished basement room, carport, patios, fish pond. Land subdivision possible. Summer occupancy $345,000

JEFFERSON ROAD

Convenient and quiet, an unusual and appealing three bedroom, two bath expanded one floor house. Stunning living room with many bookcases and fireplace, dining room, kitchen and breakfast room, large deck off dining area and master bedroom $160,000

NOTICE

In compliance with a ruling of the State Supreme Court, all newspapers must ascertain that employment ads do not discriminate between sexes.

For example, titles such as "Salesman," "Nurse" and "Girl Friday" should be replaced, respectively, by "Salesperson," "Nurse (M/W)" and "General Office Work M/W". TOWN TOPICS has a copy of the Division of Civil Rights booklet, "A Guide for Employers to the New Jersey Law against Discrimination," and will provide assistance in the wording of all such ads upon request. Advertisers' cooperation is sought in meeting the requirements of the law.

Family Service Agency Offers Programs Designed to Help Alcoholics and Families

"Where am I, with alcohol?"

A basic question and, for many people, a question so frightening they often refuse, defiantly, to answer it.

The Family Service Agency is marking the first anniversary of a many-sided program designed to help alcoholics and their families work toward an answer.

In January, 1982, Family Service started an Alcohol Orientation Group to explain the disease of alcoholism, and show how it affects physical, social and emotional well-being.

Today, about ten people — but often as many as 17 — attend each session of the eight-week, open-ended program. They gather one evening a week for 90 minutes in Family Service's pleasant old Victorian house in Hightstown, hearing speakers talk about the ways alcohol affects the body, drinking and driving, misconceptions about alcohol, families and alcohol, recovery and support, assertiveness, communication skills.

Exploding Alcohol Myths. They hear experts explode the old myths — that black coffee or a cold shower will sober you up, that you can't get drunk on beer, that a nip from the St. Bernard's little barrel will keep you warm.

And after the lecture, they begin to talk among themselves, guided by Jane Kretzschmar, a specialist in alcoholism counseling.

"They all have their own war stories," Ms. Kretzschmar says softly. "It's very supportive for all of them, to hear that other people have the same stories: 'hey! that happened to me, too!'

———

"They can work on each other's denials — 'aw, c'mon, you knew what you were doing when you did that!'

"And after three or four sessions, you'll hear, 'Well — I think I really do have a problem.....'

"A group like this lets you see that you really have been fooling yourself, because you can see that other people have been fooling themselves."

———

Not All are Alcoholics. Not everybody in the AOG is an alcoholic. One may be a parent, worried about a teenage drinker. Often there is someone with a drinking spouse.

Many are there because they have been arrested for drunken driving and have been sent to the program by the state. The idea is to provide treatment, rather than to punish.

You can enter the AOG any time because each session stands on its own, and the program recycles at the end of the eight weeks. You'll hear the full series of talks no matter what week you begin.

This week's session, on Thursday from 7:30 to 9 p.m., will be on "Families and Alcohol." Next Thursday, January 27, the talk will be on "Communication Skills."

New Jersey Requirement. New Jersey requires 16 weeks of education about alcoholism, so most of those in the AOG go on to part two.

This is a 10-week "Early Sobriety Group," which meets in Princeton at Family Service's office in Dorothea House, 120 John Street. The leader is Judy Lockard, also a professional alcoholism counselor.

"Denial is the chief symptom. Alcoholics can't see that job, family and feelings of self-worth are all affected. They see the reverse: 'I'm drinking because I have problems.'"

"Only drinkers are in this group," Ms. Lockard begins. "What we're trying to do, is to change patterns of behavior. We talk about family patterns, and how drinking has affected them.

"Suppose, for example, you get mad or loving or relaxed or in the mood for dancing, only when you're drinking. We want to integrate these things into a sober way of life, into sobriety.

———

Alcohol Becomes Focus. "It's probable that you've been so completely focused on alcohol that you've dropped things you once liked to do. 'What have you been doing in the last few years?' We ask you to think about that."

Officials Invited

Prosecutors, judges, school administrators, clergy, representatives of business and industry will be invited this spring to a half-day workshop where they will learn about Family Service's special alcohol programs.

They will see a video-tape of a fictional family and its problems with alcohol, and they will learn in more detail about the programs described here.

"A lot of these people are already in Alcoholics Anonymous. They're dealing effectively with drinking, but problems are emerging that were formerly masked by the drinking.

"Our ultimate goal is to get all of them into AA because in AA, they have the constant, seven-day-a-week support of their peers."

———

A third group, also run by Ms. Lockard in Princeton, consists entirely of women. A men's group is planned for the future, but since Ms. Lockard's professional specialty is women, the agency decided to begin at that point.

Later, Family Service hopes to add a "Recovery" group and a group composed of several families.

Four Categories of Women. "These are women affected somehow by alcoholism," Ms. Lockard says. "They may be mothers, daughters, spouses or women who are themselves recovering alcoholics. We always have representatives from all four of those categories."

Members of the women's group or of the Early Sobriety Group may also be in private counseling with a Family Service staff member, perhaps on an individual basis or maybe with the family, as well.

Daughters of alcoholics are especially vulnerable, Ms. Lockard has found. With remarkable consistency, they tend to marry alcoholics, and they encounter problems of trust and intimacy.

"The disease of alcoholism is no different from the whole human condition — it's just intensified, but it's a life-or-death situation.'"

"While you were growing up, you were always dealing with bizarre reactions to your behavior, so you learned not to trust relationships. You learned not to talk about secrets — to protect the person who was the drinker. You grew up thinking you had to be perfect.

Responsibility for Others. "We find that a major theme, with women: over-responsibility for others, under-responsibility for themselves."

"Men, too, have a problem with over-responsibility. They think they've got to have all the answers, that their family should never have problems. Often they turn to drink to solve what they perceive as failures."

———

Since people with drinking problems always seem to deny they have such a problem, how does a family get the drinker into any of these programs?

"Families can start by going into counseling, or getting into Alanon, the Alcoholics Anonymous organization for families," Ms. Lockard advises.

Who Needs Help? "You can get so confused! The drinker is saying 'YOU'RE the problem — you're the one who needs psychiatric help, you're the one who needs to stop nagging me.'

"But you don't have to prove you're not the problem. You just need some help.

"'Sobriety' is different from just being on the wagon for a few weeks, when you're not drinking, but nothing else has changed."

News Of The THEATRES

TWO OPENINGS

For McCarter. They're calling it "Premiere '83" — the opening this week of two new works under the banner of McCarter Theatre. One will be on the mainstage of the theatre, the other a Stage Two production in The Acting Studio at 185 Nassau.

"At This Evening's Performance," a comedy by McCarter's Artistic Director, Nagle Jackson," will bow at 8 p.m. this Thursday at 185 Nassau. It will play through January 29.

"The Day They Shot John Lennon," by James McLure, will have its world premiere this Friday, also at 8, but on the mainstage at McCarter itself. It will be on stage through February 6.

In "At This Evening's Performance," playwright Jackson assembles a traveling theatre troupe in an unnamed Eastern European satellite country, where the actors find themselves unexpectedly surrounded by political intrigue and subversion.

If one actor says a certain line — that actor will be shot. All the actors are afraid, needless to say, and hesitate to say their lines because nobody in the company knows exactly which line it is — only that the killer will be "at this evening's performance."

Actors will be Penelope Reed, Jay Doyle, Stacy Ray, Robin Chadwick, Moses Rosenblum, Stephen Smith and Raye Birk. Mr. Jackson is director as well as author.

Mr. McLure's "The Day They Shot John Lennon" focuses on nine people from the crowd that gathered outside the New York apartment building after the former Beatle was shot. McCarter says it's a "humorous portrayal of a serious subject."

BEHIND THE IRON CURTAIN: Although she doesn't look it, Penelope Reed is actually behind the Iron Curtain, in Nagle Jackson's comedy-drama, "At This Evening's Performance." She is costumed as — well, Cleopatra, maybe? — in a play-within-a-play sequence. The production, by McCarter's Stage Two, opens this week at The Acting Studio, 185 Nassau. It will play there through January 29.

asking serious questions about American society and what the characters hope will be a new age of American sensibility.

PRINCETON DANCERS

In American Ballet II. Two young dancers who had their first lessons in Princeton classes will perform with American Ballet Theatre II when the troupe appears at McCarter Theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday. And the Ballet Mistress of the company is Gretchen Ward Warren, who also studied in Princeton before moving into her own professional career.

The two young dancers are Juliet Burrows and Courtney Smith. They will both appear on the Tuesday program in "Sequels" and the Wednesday program in "Vivaldi Variations" and "Bournonville Divertissement." In addition Ms. Smith will perform Tuesday in "Tribute" and "Raymonda."

The New York Times critic, writing last week, said that Ms. Smith "had a beautiful, gentle style" in the "Bournonville Divertissement."

American Ballet Theatre II is the second company of Ballet Theatre Foundation, Inc., founded as a training company. It has provided the first professional dance experience for many dancers in companies throughout the country.

Courtney Smith began her training at the age of 12 with the Princeton Ballet Society, studying with Alexi Yudenich and Barbara Sandato, both former members of the Pennsylvania Ballet.

Later, she studied with Judith Leviton, director of the Princeton Ballet and a former member of the Metropolitan Opera Ballet; Jane Miller Gifford, associate director of the Princeton Ballet and Dermot Burke, ballet master of the Princeton Ballet and a former member of the Joffrey.

She spent one year on scholarship with the American Ballet Theatre and was then offered a professional contract with American Ballet Theatre II.

Ms. Burrows began her training at nine with The Ballet Workshop under Imogen Stooke Wheeler, former member of England's Ballet Rambert.

She had been accepted by the School of American Ballet and the Harkness Ballet School, but Ms. Wheeler felt she belonged in the ABT.

She had missed the scholarship audition, but Ms. Wheeler invited ABT's ballet mistress to Princeton to see a student she thought ABT would be interested in. According to Ms. Wheeler, the ballet mistress knew immediately which dancer Ms. Wheeler had referred to, without being told. Ms. Burrows was accepted into the program, and later offered a professional contract with ABT II.

Gretchen Ward Warren was a student at Mila Gibbons' Apari School. As a student of the Royal Ballet School, she danced with the Covent Garden Opera Ballet in 1963-64. From 1965 to 1976, she was with the Pennsylvania Ballet as soloist.

Since 1976, she has done costume design for over two dozen companies including the American Ballet Theatre, Alvin Ailey and the Pennsylvania Ballet. She has been with the ABT II as costume design co-ordinator and ballet mistress since 1978.

'CARMEN' AUDITIONS

In Trenton. Auditions for both adult and children's chorus roles in the opera "Carmen" will be held on Sunday from 3 to 5 for children's roles and from 5 on for adult chorus roles. "Carmen" will be presented on Sunday, May 1, at 5 by the Trenton Civic Opera Company in the Trenton War Memorial Auditorium.

A second opportunity for auditions will be held by the producer, Byron Steele, on Wednesday, January 26, with children's auditioning at 7 and adult's at 8. Both auditions will be held at the Artists' Showcase Theatre, 1150 Indiana Avenue, Trenton.

For further information or a possible alternate audition date, call Mr. and Mrs. Steele at 883-1775.

BRING GOOSE-PIMPLES

"Wait Until Dark." She's a young blind woman with a rich prize she doesn't even know she has, and a pair of thugs break into her apartment to get it. "Wait Until Dark" was written by Frederick Knott, who wrote "Dial M for Murder" and "Write Me and Murder" and New York audiences shivered over "Wait Until Dark" for 11 months in 1966.

It has been revived by the Franklin Villagers Barn Theatre, and will play through February 13 in the theatre. Details about tickets and the location of the theatre may be obtained by calling 201-873-2710.

Judith Reichman has the starring role. Others in the cast are Joe Ciglio as her husband, Don Aaronson and Jim Rinere as the thieves, John Boucher as a police officer and Sheyl Lang as a friend.

BY FATHER, FOR SON: Eighteen year old Sarn Oliver and his father Harold look over the score of Harold Oliver's Concerto for Violin and String Orchestra which will have its world premiere Sunday, January 30. There will also be a preview and discussion of the work Friday, January 28. (Story this page.)

MUSIC In Princeton

PREVIEW PLANNED

Of Premiere Work. A concert preview-discussion will be presented in joint sponsorship of the Friends of Music and the Composers Guild of New Jersey on Friday, January 28, from 8 to 9 in the McAlpin Rehearsal Room at Woolworth Center, on the University campus.

The program will be Harold Oliver's Concerto for Violin and String Orchestra with Sarn Oliver, soloist, and Robert Pollock, pianist, in a piano reduction of the score. In addition, Mr. Pollock's Two Pieces for Piano Solo will also be performed by the composer. Both composers will be present to talk about their compositions and a discussion period will follow the performances.

Harold Oliver has a Ph.D in composition from Princeton University and is currently Professor of Music at Glasssboro State College. Sarn Oliver, his son, is a student at the Juilliard School in New York. Robert Pollock, pianist-composer, holds an MFA degree in composition from Princeton and is the president of the Composers Guild of New Jersey.

First performance of the Oliver Violin Concerto will be performed by The Little Orchestra, Portia Sonnenfeld, Conductor, at the Princeton High School on Sunday, January 30, at 3.

The preview-discussion is open to the public, admission is free. For further information, call the Concert Office 452-5707.

G & S BENEFIT SET

For Choir College. George Gallup III will act as master of ceremonies for a benefit performance for the Westminster Choir College Foundation for which the Blue Hill Toupe of New York will present "Trial By Jury" and excerpts from "Princess Ida," and the Westminster Singers, conducted by Allen Crowell, will sing part of its tour program. The performance will take place at Princeton Day School on Saturday at 8. Ticket information is available by calling 924-7414.

Mr. Gallup first performed with the Savoyards of Princeton, which were sponsored by the University, and then with the Gilbert and Sullivan Association of Princeton. From 1970 to 1978 he sang the roles of "Captain Corcoran," "Private Willis," and "The Mikado," among others, to the late Lee Hasting Bristol Jr's comic impersonations. The late A. Munroe Wade, one of the founders of the Princeton University Triangle Club, acted as master of ceremonies for these performances.

Howard McMorris II, a member of the board of trustees of Westminster Choir College and a singing member of the Blue Hill Troupe, has organized the program which will open with several groups of lighter selections by the Westminster Singers. "Trial By Jury" will be staged and costumed, but not as elaborately as are the productions in New York by the Blue Hill Troupe.

Music in Princeton

YOUTHS TO PERFORM

In Ensemble Concert. The Mercer County Symphonic Orchestra - String Training Ensemble, Portia Sonnenfeld conductor, will present its Annual Winter Concert at the Edith Memorial Chapel of The Lawrenceville School on Sunday, February 6, at 2. Admission is free.

The Concert Mistress, Denise Stillwell, will perform C de Beriot's "Fantaisie Ballet," Op. 100. Mrs. Sonnenfeld will conduct an original composition, "Gypsy Tune," written by 11-year-old Istvan Feher, a member of the first violin section of the String Training Ensemble. Also to be featured are Emilie Gordenker, flute and Rebecca Dyson, oboe in the solo parts of Antonio Salieri's Concerto in C Major for Flute, Oboe and Orchestra. Both Miss Gordenker and Miss Dyson are members of the Mercer County Symphonic Orchestra.

READY FOR CONCERT: Sara Miller, Istvan Feher, Denise Stillwell and Jeffrey Lehrer, front row, are members of the String Training Ensemble of the Mercer County Symphonic Orchestra which will give its annual winter concert on Sunday, February 6, in Edith Memorial Chapel of the Lawrenceville School. In the rear are Portia Sonnenfeld, conductor of the String Training Ensemble, and Emilie Gordenker and Rebecca Dyson, who are members of the Mercer County Symphonic Orchestra and who will be soloists for the concert.

The concert program will also include Choral Prelude No. 3 "In Thee Is Joy" by J.S. Bach; "The Gordian Knot United," Suite No. 1 by Henry Purcell and Hopak, from "The Fair at Sorochinsk" by Modest Moussorgsky.

The String Training Ensemble offers professional guidance to young musicians in grades three and up. They rehearse weekly to learn the fundamentals of music, to acquire the skills of ensemble playing, and to broaden their orchestral repertoire. It performs two concerts a year, the second of which will be presented on Sunday, May 1.

RECITAL AT WOOLWORTH

By Mezzo-Soprano. Jenneke Barton, mezzo-soprano, will give a concert on Sunday at 3 in the McAlpin Rehearsal Room in Woolworth Center, on the University campus. Sponsored by the Friends of Music, the concert is free. Miss Barton will be accompanied by Patricia Ainspac, pianist.

A native Princetonian, Miss Barton graduated from Wellesley College and began her singing career in Boston, where she studied at the New England Conservatory of Music and was soloist with the Conservatory Orchestra. She has had a varied career performing with chamber, madrigal and oratorio groups throughout New England. She has been soloist with the Harvard-Radcliffe Orchestra, the Bach Society Orchestra, the Mozart Festival Orchestra and the Boston Pops, the late Arthur Fiedler, conducting.

She has performed also a variety of operatic roles, and sang two seasons with the Santa Fe Opera. Miss Barton made her Carnegie Hall debut as solist with the Oratorio Society and her Avery Fisher Hall debut with the New York Choral Society. Sunday's concert is her third under the auspices of the Friends of Music at Princeton.

Jenneke Barton

Pianist Patricia Ainspac studied piano at the Juillard School, the Vienna Academy of Music, and the Accademia Chigiana in Siena, Italy. She has taught at the Henry Street Music School in New York and the National Conservatory of Music in Santo Domingo, D.R. She is presently music specialist in the East Windsor School system.

For her program, Miss Barton will sing a group of songs by Scarlatti, Wolf, Faure, Debussy, including "Chansons de Bilitis," and four songs, written especially for her by Andrew Thomas.

PIANIST TO PLAY

With Chamber Orchestra. The Princeton University Concerts Viruosi in Recital series will present Claude Frank, pianist, with Solisti New York, Ransom Wilson, conductor, on Monday at 8 in McCarter Theatre.

Claude Frank is an international artist who has appeared repeatedly in every corner of the globe, making annual tours of the United States, Europe and South America, performing in recital and with the world's greatest orchestras and conductors. Solisti New York is a chamber orchestra whose members play in or have played with the New york Philharmonic and the orchestra of the Metropolitan Opera, American Ballet Theatre and the New York City Ballet, as well as the Orpheus Ensemble and the New York Pro Arte orchestra.

The conductor, Ransom Wilson, has given flute recitals in major concert halls throughout this country and abroad and is adding to his career a reputation as a conductor.

The program will include, Handel, "The Arrival of the Queen of Sheba," from "Solomon"; Grieg, Holberg Suite for Strings, Opus 40; Mozart, Concerto No. 9 in E Flat Major, Rondo in C Major for Violin and Orchestra with Eric Wyrie, violinist, Symphony No. 29 in A Major, and Samuel Barber's Adagio for Strings, Opus 11.

Tickets at $11.50 and $10 are available at the McCarter Theatre Box Office, 452-5200, and student "rush" tickets are available on the day of the concert at $6.

AUDITIONS PLANNED

For Dance Ensemble. The Mercer Dance Ensemble will hold auditions in the Kelsey Theatre on Mercer County Community College's West Windsor Campus on Saturday at 9.

Formed in 1981 as the college-community modern dance company of MCCC, the ensemble is under the direction of Janell Byrne and Nancy Thiel. Their goal is to provide high-quality, innovative modern dance experiences throughout Central New Jersey. The ensemble receives funding assistance from the Mercer County Cultral and Heritage Commission.

The ensemble will be featured at the Mill Hill Playhouse in Trenton from February 25 through February 27 as part of the dance series there and will present a full-length concert at its home base in the Kelsey Theatre on April 15 and 16.

The auditions Saturday are open to anyone 14 years of age or older, although individuals with some formal dance experience are preferred. Auditioners should come prepared to dance.

Additional information about the auditions or performances of the ensemble may be obtained by calling MCCC's Cultural Events Office at 586-4800, extension 581.

BAND CONCERT SET

At Rider College. The Rider College Concert Band, under the direction of Associate Professor of Music Dr. Carl Schwartz, will give a free concert in the Fine Arts Center on Thursday, January 27 at 8 p.m.

The hour-long program will also feature the music of the Rider Jazz Band which will be directed by Ted Kutzer of Lawrenceville, a junior marketing major.

The 70-piece concert band will begin and end the show. It will play such popular tunes as "Oklahoma," "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," "MacArthur Park," and "Chariots of Fire." In between, the 20-piece jazz ensemble will play "Birdland," "Sophisticated Ladies," "Angel Eyes," "When Sonny Gets Blue," and "Gospel John."

The public is invited. There is ample parking available near the Fine Arts Center.

workbench®

Now everything you've always wanted for less... is less.

Our Annual Sale—
December 26 to January 31
when almost everything is 10% to 40% off regular prices.

At Workbench, we don't have lots of storewide sales. Just one a year. But it's a dilly. Because we mark down all our best stuff. Not just a few things. Not even just a lot of things. But almost everything.

And mark down is all we do. Because, unlike a lot of other places, we don't bring in so-called specials or things no one wants or that were over-priced in the first place. At Workbench we just go through the store with our red pencil and slash prices. Which means that right now you'll find Workbench's best at 10% to 40% less than you'd expect to pay.

That's right, 10% to 40% off on butcher block tables, upholstery, storage systems, bookcases, carts, music benches, desks and chair after chair after chair. Even the already reduced "Foreign Policy" prices on most of our imports have been further price cut for this sale.

Of course, there are a few things currently oversold that we can't put on sale. But, odds are the great things you've been promising yourself to get are here.

Is there a catch? Only time. Because we have only one storewide sale a year. And it lasts only until January 31. So hurry. Because if you wait too long, you'll have to wait a whole year for our sale to come around again. And that's more time than anyone should spend waiting to spend less.

Our versatile work table with storage compartments and a top that can be used flat or tilted. In natural beech or walnut finish. 41¾w x 22"d. Adjustable desk chair in red, blue, green, brown or grey fabric.
desk $109 reg $125, chair $49 reg. $60

Our handsome oak desk with adjustable tilt top covered in brown mica to protect against stains and scratches. Storage drawers, too. 45w x 23½"d. Adjustable desk chair in red, blue, green, brown or grey fabric. Also our adjustable desk lamp in red, white, yellow or brown $19.95 reg. $28.

ART In Princeton

'VISTAS'

By Kristin Naumann. Recent watercolors, oils and acrylics by Kristin Ragnhild Naumann, Princeton-born artist who now lives in Skillman, will be on view through January in the Montgomery National Bank, Rocky Hill. The bank is on the corner of Route 206 and Route 518 in Rocky Hill.

Currently an art major at Smith College, Ms. Naumann studied with Arlene H. Smith of the Princeton Day School faculty, and with Pamela Wagner and Gary Lott of Rocky Hill.

A year ago, she was represented in a two-person show, "People, Places and Things" at the Princeton University League. She was designated "Promising Young Artist" in the '81-'82 Arts Recognition and Talent Search Program sponsored by the National Foundation for Advancement in the Arts.

She paints the Southwest, where she has traveled widely and where she won awards for her watercolors in the 1979 New Mexico competitions, and she has also recorded her impressions of Long Island.

ON VAN DYCK

'Museum Break' Talk. John Rupert Martin, of the art and archaeology department at Princeton University, will speak on "The Van Dyck Apostles" this Friday at 12:30 and Sunday at 3 at the Art Museum on the University campus. The talks are part of the series of "Museum Break" lectures organized by the Docents Association. They are open to the public without charge.

The subject of Dr. Martin's talk will be two paintings of the apostles Peter and Thomas which have come to the museum on loan from a private collection. He will show how Van Dyck, a portraitist, has given an individual appearance and character to each of the apostles. He will also compare the two paintings, which are done in oil on wood, to a later Van Dyck, "The Mocking of Christ," which is oil on canvas.

ABOUT LANDSCAPES

In Watercolor Workshop. A day-long workshop, "Elements Found in Landscape," will be conducted by Lucile Geiser for the Tri-County Art Association Saturday, February 5 from 10 to 4. The workshop will be held in the Hightstown High School Annex, Room 703.

Ms. Geiser will explore ways of transmitting onto paper through the watercolor medium, the mix of light, air, water and earth within a landscape.

Registration, with $25 fee for non-members ($20 for members) may be made by sending a check made out to TCAA, to 173 Canterbury Court, East Windsor, N.J., 08520. Indicate, with registration, that the fee is for the "Elements in Landscape" course.

Tri-County is based in the Hightstown-East Windsor area and is a non-profit art organization. Additional information is available from 448-8967 or 448-1830.

FOOT STOMPER PLANNED

By Montgomery Arts Council. The Montgomery Arts Council will hold its annual Foot Stomper, featuring music by Mary Anna Clark and Foxfire, on Friday at 8 at the home of Joyce and Tom Platt, Wertsville Road at Montgomery Corner.

The event is planned for all who wish to be members of the Montgomery Arts Council, and the cost is the 1983 membership dues: $8.50 for a family and $6 for an individual. Chili and beer will be served at a $2 cover charge. For reservations and directions call 874-3505 days, and 359-6955 evenings.

Art in Princeton

The Montgomery Arts Council was formed two years ago by those who had taken part in the highly successful "Arts and Barns" in 1979 and "May in Montgomery" in 1980. As Pat Cope, a photographer and one of the founding members, puts it, "These community-wide events with artisans and crafts people were just fabulous, and having discovered each other, we didn't want to let that go."

The purpose of the group is to bring together creative and performing artists, create a community of artists within the Montgomery area, exhibit artists' work and promote events which support the arts. The Council is also a means for interaction among artists to stimulate work and offer instruction. Membership is composed of persons who are interested in the arts and who pay the annual dues.

There are currently 50 to 70 dues-paying members who meet at each other's homes about once a month for what Mrs. Cope calls an "At Home with the Artist." "We try to have a gem of an experience, tastefully presented," she adds.

Following the foot-stomper with chili and beer this Friday, there will be an annual meeting in February, a musicale in March, and in April the meeting will be held at the home of a weaver. In addition to these at-home affairs, the Council also tries to have events that reach out into the communtiy, such as an annual art show held in the spring. In keeping with the purposes of the Council, activities and sub-committees are organized in the areas of education, exhibitions, membership, programs, and publicity-newsletter.

OFF TO NEWARK

On PAA Trip. The Newark Museum and a contemporary exhibit, along with lunch at Don Pepe's are on the itinerary for the Princeton Art Association tour of Newark Thursday, January 27.

American Folk Art from the Museum's own collection is the main exhibit. It covers painting, sculpture and the decorative arts, including examples of work by profcssional and amateur "naive" artists in the 18th and 19th centuries. There will be a guided tour.

In addition, tour participants may see "Facets of the Collection," presenting highlights from the Museum's permanent collection of painting and sculpture.

The contemporary museum is City Without Walls, now celebrating its eighth anniversary. This artists' collection is currently showing "Post-Pratt: Recent MFA Graduates," presenting the work of 15 artists in a variety of media.

The $20.50 non-member fee includes chartered bus, a tip for the driver, guided tours and lunch at Don Pepe's family-style restaurant. The fee does not include a tip for the lunch. Members may make the trip for $18.50, and seniors should deduct $1.

The bus will leave at 8:30 a.m. from the Acme side of the Princeton Shopping Center near the playing field. It will return between 4 and 4:30.

Checks, payable to the PAA, may be sent to the Princeton Art Association, Rosedale Road, Princeton, N.J. 08540. Telephone reservations may be made by calling 921-9173.

Alcoholics

"You need to learn to say 'I won't call the boss again and say you're sick....I won't go to the party if you drive....I won't take any action about our marriage until you do something....' "

Talk about families leads to a dark and hidden question: are there family patterns of alcoholism?

Ms. Lockard says there is a family pattern in about 50 percent of all cases. Is alcoholism, then, physiological?

"We don't know," she replies. "We have such a drinking culture! Go into someone's home, the first thing you're offered is a drink."

And Ms. Kretzschmar says, "Because alcohol is so much a part of our culture, it's an uphill battle."

A Significant Other. When you enter the Alcohol Orientation Group, you're asked to bring what counselors call "a significant other," to at least one meeting. This could be husband or wife, lover, parent.

At one point, Ms. Kretzschmar passes around a list and asks you to complete these sentences:

"When I'm lonely....."

"People close to me think my drinking is....."

"The thing that concerns me most about my drinking is...."

"I drink when I feel....."

And you're asked to write down your feelings, thoughts, judgments from time to time, so you can see how you have progressed.

At the end of the eight weeks of AOG, Ms. Kretzschmar does a private evaluation of each participant, helping each one to see progress from a defiant "What does this have to do with me!" to "Well, maybe I do get too aggressive after I've had a few..."

More Men Arrested. In this AOG, by the way, there are often more men than women, chiefly because more men than women are arrested for drunk driving. The age range is from 18 to men and women in their late 60s. The group is not designed for children.

"If an alcoholic begins recovery and the family isn't part of it, there is a risk of resumed drinking because nothing in the family has changed."

The men and women come from all races, ethnic groups, social and economic strata. And yes, some are second offenders, back again to repeat the course.

Asked about "success," Ms. Kretzschmar is wry and thoughtful.

"What is 'success'?" she asks. "Six months? One year? Maybe 'success' means staying in the family. Maybe 'success' could mean breaking up the family.

"We show you what alcohol does, how it affects the organs of the body, how it goes through the body, what areas of the brain it affects after a certain number of drinks.

"You identify, for yourself, where you are on the pathway — the downward spiral of alcoholism.

"It is a progressive disease. It can be treated, but not cured and it is terminal if left untreated. 'Terminal' in the sense of a fatal car accident, suicide, illness.

"The goal is not to fall again into a pattern of drinking and driving. And Alcoholics Anonymous is the place to end up."

Tiger Basketball, Hockey Teams Hoping for Post-Season-Play; Former Has Much Better Chance of Making Dream Come True

Mid-term exams have provided a pause in the schedules of Princeton's basketball and hockey teams, giving a chance for a review of the two teams' possibilities of making the post-season playoffs in their respective sports.

The basketball team does not play again until next Wednesday evening against DePaul in Illinois; hockey goes against Cornell in Ithaca Monday after a two-week layoff.

For a variety of reasons, the best chance of succeeding lies with coach Pete Carril's quintet. Carril has taken the Tigers to post-season competition six times during his 15-year tenure here, qualifying for the NCAA tournament four times as the Ivy League winner, and being selected for the NIT on two other occasions.

SPORTS In Princeton

GREAT EXPECTATIONS: Freshman John Smyth may not have lived up to quite all the expectations of Princeton basketball fans thus far, but he has certainly helped improve the fortunes of the Tiger quintet this winter. He is averaging 11 points a game, and leads the team in steals.

In past years, the Ivy League champion automatically received a bid to the NCAA, but this is no longer the case. Always looking for a chance to slight members of the Ancient Eight, the NCAA now requires a playoff between the Ivy League champion and the Big East winner, with the victor entering the first round of the national tournament.

This will impose an added burden upon the Orange and Black, should it manage to capture the Ivy title, but its competition within the league has always been limited. Rarely has there been anyone else to worry about except Pennsylvania.

Penn has been a formidable opponent in this respect, gaining the upper hand in the rivalry over the past decade, but no other league team has been competitive on a regular basis. Columbia made a decent showing last year, finishing in a tie for second with the Tigers, and has been the only other team to capture the title in the last 20 years.

The traditional weakness of the other teams has left Princeton and Penn in the driver's seat year after year. Both have occasionally fallen victim to an upset, especially away from home, but this has not advanced the other team's title hopes very far.

The two appear headed for another showdown this season as well, and it's one the Tigers seem in a better position to handle this time around. Last year, they had trouble winning the close ones, including a pair of three-point losses to the Quakers.

John Smyth may not have lived up to everyone's expectations yet, but he is averaging a solid 11 points a game, third behind Craig Robinson's 14.5, and Gordon Enderle's, 11.9. He leads the team in steals with 28, and most importantly has teamed well with Billy Ryan in bringing the ball upcourt in pressure situations. Last year just getting the ball across the midcourt line was often difficult for the Tigers.

On most occasions Smyth is able to provide the good outside shooting needed to break opposing zones. Ryan and Enderle both are more confident players than a year ago, and Robinson is proving he is still the most valuable, leading in rebounds as well as scoring. Rich Simkus has looked good at times, but still can have a very bad game, as he did against Brown (zero points, five fouls).

This is a better team than a year ago, but not a whole lot. It is still being outrebounded, as it was last winter, and it has trouble applying the knockout punch to weaker teams.

The two contests between Princeton and Penn must be rated as toss-ups, and it is very possible each will win at home. That means the race will be decided by a loss or two on the road.

---

Can Princeton avoid this pitfall? It seems unlikely the Tigers could win six of seven away games, losing only to Penn, but it also is doubtful Penn could pull off a similar feat losing only in Jadwin.

The Tigers are better equipped to win the close ones this year, and that will help, because the final close one could be another playoff with the Red and Blue.

Tougher Time for Hockey. The hockey team has had a much more difficult time making it into post-season playoffs. Only once, in 1967-68 season when they finished 13-10-1, have the Tigers qualified for the ECAC Division I tournament, along with seven other teams.

They lost to Cornell 6-1 in the opening round and haven't been back since, and it's not surprising. Cornell and to a lesser extent Harvard have dominated the six team Ivy region of the ECAC.

Bids are handed out to the winners of the three divisions (East, West, Ivy) plus five other teams with the best records in Division I play. As is shown in the accompanying standings, two Ivy teams, Harvard and Cornell, three teams in the West region, and four in the East, have better records than Princeton's 5-6. (Records are updated through Jan. 8)

It is possible to win the Ivy League race on a basis of total points, but have another Ivy team capture the ECAC bid. This happened in 1981 when Yale won the league, but Cornell on the basis of a better ECAC record, went to the playoffs.

The Tigers are 7-7 overall, enjoying their best season in several. To gain a bid to the tournament, they must win a large share of their remaining contests with teams like Colgate, Dartmouth, RPI, Vermont, Clarkson, St. Lawrence and Cornell.

They play the Big Red twice in the space of five days, with an away game against Colgate sandwiched in between. The first game will come this Monday in Ithaca. Cornell is 6-5-1 in all games, 2-1 in Ivy play.

It had been sailing along on a high, until losing to Brown, 4-1, in Providence last week. Two years ago, the Tigers came out of their mid-term exams, made the long bus trip to Ithaca, and upset the Big Red. That may be too much too ask again, but it would certainly send them on their way. They definitely need at least a split with Cornell, and a win against Colgate would increase their playoff chances.

The freshman players have provided plenty of scoring punch this year, and this has made the difference in several games. The defense has cut down on crucial mistakes that leave goalie Ron Dennis helpless. Still in all, Princeton will need to play even better in its remaining games to beat out some of the teams now ahead of it for a playoff spot.

Ms. Fields, who won the N.J. state title last year, is ranked sixth in the United States. Ms. McConnell is ranked first in the nation and until this event she had given up only one game during the entire season.

Here's a football oddity that seems impossible -- but it actually happened ... A player once gained only 5 yards in one game -- yet he scored 4 touchdowns in that game! ... It happened Nov. 4, 1973 when Bobby Douglass of the Chicago Bears carried the ball only 4 times -- but one carry was a 2-yard touchdown run, and the other 3 were each 1-yard TD runs ... His total yardage gained rushing was 5 yards, but he had scored 4 touchdowns!

Of all the players in National Football League history, which one was named to the All-Pro team the MOST times? ... Answer is a man who's now a TV personality -- Merlin Olsen ... Olsen played defensive tackle for the Rams from 1962 through 1976 ... In his 15 years in the NFL, he was named All-Pro 14 times, a record.

A little noticed -- but unbelievable fact -- occurred in one 1982 National Football League game ... In a game Nov. 28 between Baltimore and Buffalo, Baltimore NEVER crossed the 50-yard line all day! ... That's hard to believe, but is happened ... The deepest penetration the Baltimore offense made in the game was to their own 49-yard line ... The final score was Buffalo 20, Baltimore 0.

Nina Porter, a Trinity College junior from Wilmington, Del., 10-15, 18-17, 15-11, 15-9.

In the finals of the fee-in bracket, 49-year old Marigold Edwards of Pittsburgh outlasted Karen Kelso, a 19-year old sophomore at the University of Pennsylvania, 13-15, 15-10, 17-14, 15-10.

An eight-time winner of the U.S. senior singles, Mrs. Edwards, an associate professor at the University of Pittsburgh, played two matches Friday night and three on Saturday, one of which was a five-game affair in which she upset Jane Giammattei of Wilmington, 15-11, 6-15, 8-15, 15-8, 15-6. Ms. Giammattei, the U.S. junior 18 and under champion in 1979, has been seeded fourth in the tournament.

Mark Skinner, marketing director of AMF-Head Racquets, sponsor of this year's event, and Melon Johnson, tournament chairman, presented the trophies.

HUN MATMEN NIPPED

34-30 by George School. Hun School wrestling coach Dave Faus knew last week's match with George School was going to be a tough match.

The Cougars had wiped out Pennington, 63-6, earlier and have one of the strongest mat programs among all the prep schools. And it was close. A win in one more bout would have brought Hun a victory but the visitors prevailed, 34-30.

Hun, winner of five of seven matches this season, will compete Saturday at 2 in a triangular meet against Peddie and Trenton High in Hightstown.

Peddie is not as strong this season as in past years so Faus envisions no problem with the Falcons. Trenton is much stronger. "We'll have to put it to some of their weaker wrestlers if we hope to win," observed Faus.

The match with George School came down to the 187-pound match between Hun freshman Nick Kydonous and Ken Rasonberger. Kydonous had Rasonberger on his back for 20 seconds in the first period and for nearly half a minute in the second but could not get a fall from the referee. "Damn, it was awful close!" said Faus.

Kydonous got caught with 30 seconds left in the second period and his pin gave George School an insurmountable lead. Hun heavyweight Yawan Kayali ended the match by flattening the Cougars' Walter Hoffman in 3:24.

"Again, it was very similar to the Academy of New Church match," commented Faus. "I was content with the outcome and I gained some faith in the squad. We have some inexperienced wrestlers in two or three spots and that's what we're forced to deal with."

George took a 12-0 lead with two quick pins in the first two matches but Hun tied it when Dave Zimmer decked George's David Dykehouse in 1:37 and Rick Gallin followed with another first-period pin, flattening Scott Russell in 1:26 in their 121-pound match.

Rob Scherr lost a 11-1 decision for Hun at 128 pounds, but Hun came back to within one on a 7-3 decision by Larry Falls over Jose Padrilla. George School widened its lead with pins at 140 and 147 pounds -- Hun's Mickey Raad and Pat Daly the victims -- but again Hun fought its way back into contention.

Todd Lipani registered a 16-decision at 157 pounds and veteran Chris Black pinned his 167-pound opponent, David Cadawilder, 48-seconds into the second period. That set up the final two matches with Hun trailing, 28-24.

DEFENSE PAVES WAY

To PHS Court Win. Teams burdened with a long winless streak are dangerous. The streak has to end and often it is a complacent team that becomes the first victim.

When the Princeton High basketball team invaded the Hightstown gym last week, the Rams hand't won this season in seven tries. Not to worry. Although Hightstown did indeed win its first game two days later when it stopped Lawrence, 49-39, the Little Tigers had this game in hand from the start.

First, PHS set the Rams up by jumping to a 10-0 count. Then it decked them by grabbing a commanding 27-8 lead with four and a half minutes still left to play in the second half. All that was left was some mopping up by the PHS reserves.

"It's hard to come back. Every game we seem to get such a slow start," said a glum Hightstown mentor, Don Hess.

A couple of league games are on tap next for PHS. It will be tested by Notre Dame Friday evening in the Irish's gym and on Tuesday by Lawrence. Both games have an 8 p.m. tap-off.

This Tuesday, PHS was scheduled to entertain West Windsor-Plainsboro.

D-e-f-e-n-s-e. Defense and some balanced scoring powered the Little Tigers past Hightstown. "We played defense just about as well as we can," observed PHS coach Marvin Trotman after the game. "We usually play a zone but we wanted to put more pressure on the ball."

While the Rams were struggling to penetrate the sticky, man-to-man PHS defense in the early going without any success, Terry Phox conneceted on three jumpers during Princeton's initial 10-0 spurt. After two previous games in which his shot deserted him, guard Mark Shapiro found his shooting eye again, dropping in six shots for 12 ppoints.

Phox finished with 14, center Kyle Hayes contributed 12, point guard Jerry Ingram, the most consistent scorer for PHS, added 11 points and sophomore Keith Green tossed in nine. Tim Howard led five subs who scored with six points.

Princeton's record climbed to 4-3 with the win; Hightstown fell to 0-8. The Rams's Tyrone Brown led all scorers with 27 points.

INTO EACH SCHEDULE....

Some Losses Must Fall. The Hun School basketball team which could be forgiven if it felt most of its losses were behind it after bowing to powerful Trenton this month, was the victim of a pair of upsets last week.

A dismal 41 percent effort from the foul line (12-for-29) was instrumental in a loss to Steinert, Friday, a game which was decided in overtime, 52-48, and two days earlier the Raiders were upset by rival Lawrenceville, 59-57. The twin setbacks dropped Hun to 8-3.

"We haven't done the job in developing a class winning attitude," commented Hun coach Bob Hendrickson after the loss to the Larries.

Hun will try to regain its winning stride against Delbarton, which it will play on the Green Wave's home court Wednesday evening, and against Peddie on Friday. The game with the Falcons will be played in the Hun gym, starting at 8.

Couch Injured. Overconfidence perhaps and certainly the loss of its top offensive player Sean Couch for a period and a half combined to bring Hun down in its dramatic contest with Lawrenceville. Couch, a post-graduate student from New York's JFK High School, struck his head on the floor at the 4:52 mark in the first period going over Lawrenceville's Ron Kane. He sat out the remainder of the half and although he came back for the second half, Hendrickson described his play as "a little lethargic."

"I think it made a difference," replied Hendrickson, answering the inevitable question, but Lawrenceville played very well. They shot well and they defensed us well. We thought we had it just by walking on the court."

In the final two minutes, Lawrenceville was able to keep a lead that never ranged beyond three points as Hun kept fighting back. With 14 seconds left, Hun guard Stuart Tucker drove in for a basket to cut the Larries's lead to 58-57. Ten seconds later, Kane connected on the second of two foul shots to put the home team up by two. Marty Sumner's desperation shot for Hun as time ran out hit high off the backboard.

Paul Franzoni led Hun with 21 points, followed by Tucker who had 14 and Couch who ended with 11. Stan Counts paced the Lawrenceville attack with 20 points. Kane added 14 and Irvin Brown 12 for the victors. Lawrenceville (4-3) led by seven points after the first period, by one at the half and by two after three periods.

Both teams connected on 23 shots from the floor, Hun hitting on 48 percent of its shots (23 of 48) while Lawrenceville shot 45 percent (23 of 51).

51 Fouls in Game. The game with Steinert Friday was marred by 51 fouls, "It could have been 75," said Hendrickson. "It was a rough game."

The Spartans sank almost half its points from the foul line -- 24 in all - including eight of eleven in overtime to account for all its OT points - Hun could connect on only 12 of 29 from the free throw line. Hendrickson termed his team's effort from the charity stripe as "pathetic."

"When you're away from home maybe the basket's a little bit different," added Hendrickson, trying to explain the poor marksmanship. "Steinert didn't shoot that well in the game either; we just shot worse."

Tied at 44 at the end of regulation time, a twisting drive with 1:33 left in overtime by Couch tied the game for the seventh time at 47. Hun then picked this crucial time to find a lid on the basket. Tucker's 18-footer was off, sub Nick Amoroso missed with 14 ticks left, Terry Dearden could convert only one of two free throws and Dean Forman missed a 12-footer as time ran out.

The Spartans, meantime, were connecting on five of six free throws to nail down their upset. Couch led all scorers with 21 points, while Franzoni added eight and Tucker six. The Spartans (5-4) were led by senior Eric Kent's 18 points.

PHS NO MATCH

For Hightstown Matmen. The Princeton High School wrestling team, a team struggling for victories, and Hightstown, the creme de la creme among Mercer County schools, a team struggling only against complacency-met last week at the PHS gym. Hightstown won, 59-12.

"Hightstown was a little better than Hamilton," remarked PHS coach Lee Merrill, "but a number of bouts were closer than shows on paper.

"I think we're going to break out and do better than we have. It's just a matter of our guys needing to get more confidence in themselves and go out and shoot."

The Little Tigers will next oppose West Windsor this Wednesday evening at 8 in Plainsboro in a Colonial Valley Conference match. Its match with South Hunterdon on Saturday was postponed because of weather conditions.

All of Princeton's points against Hightstown (4-0) came on two pins. PHS 134-pounder Scott Perone stunned the Rams' Steve Warshany with a first-period pin in 1:35. Warshany had entered the match with five consecutive pins to his credit.

"Perone is a very talented wrestler," said Merrill. "He caught this guy and that was the end. That was all."

PHS had to wait until the last bout before it scored again. Heavyweight Tamar El-Shakls flattened Ram heavyweight Mike Taylor in 3:41.

Hightstown had settled things early by vaulting to a 30-0 lead. Its two outstanding wrestlers, Rob Mortello and Randy Pullen won easily.

Mortello pinned Princeton's Dave Schwartz in 1:28. For the unbeaten Mortello it was his seventh fall in seven matches - all coming in the first period. Pullen, also 7-0, pinned Evan Cohn in 1:27 in their 121-pound match. It was Pullen's fifth fall.

Other PHS pin victims included Marco Cucchi at 100 pounds; Brad Schwartz (107); Ken Stroman (128); Gabby Ondetti (140); Guillermo Orlanski (147); Ernest Pirone (157); Ralph Carnevale (169) and Paul Knoepflmacher (187). Stroman and Ondetti both went in less than a minute.

PDS SPLITS A PAIR

In Basketball. The Princeton Day basketball team split a pair of games last week, easily defeating Nottingham High School by 30 points, but losing this past Monday to Hill by 15.

PDS coach Gordon Stevenson viewed the loss to Hill as good experience for the team as it prepares for Lawrenceville this Wednesday, and Pennington, Wardlaw and Peddie in the future. The Panthers stayed even with the home team throughout the first half in a very physical contest. Each team took turns leading by a few points, but the half ended with the score at 29 apiece.

Hill moved out to a big lead in the third quarter, and held on to it in the fourth, finishing with a 78-63 victory. Reggie Reese had 23 points for PDS, followed by Jon McConaughy with 19, and Frank Little with 14.

Last Tuesday, the Blue and White had no trouble defeating Nottingham, in the first year of its basketball program, 63-33. Leading all the way, Princeton Day opened up a 31-12 lead at halftime. McConaughy had 20 points, Little, 19.

THS MATMEN RALLY

For 41-26 Win Over PHS. Halfway through its match with Trenton High Monday night, the Princeton High wrestling team had twice as many points as its host -- 24 to 12.

In the next six bouts,

Girl's Basketball to Begin

The Pink Panther basketball league for girls will begin its sixth season Saturday morning from 9 to 10:30 in the John Witherspoon School gymnasium.

The league is designed to teach the fundamentals of basketball in a low-key atmosphere. Good sportsmanship and fair play is stressed.

Girls who reside or attend school in Princeton are eligible and registration forms are available from physical education teachers and at the Recreation Department. The fee is $10.

Adult volunteers are still needed for coaching. Those interested should call Kathy Clarkson at 921-9480 or Kera Herzog at 921-1749.

however, the best the Little Tigers could do was a draw at 157 pounds, while the Tornadoes were winning all the rest. Trenton won, 41-26, raising its dual meet record to 4-1. PHS dropped to 1-4.

PHS received a forfeit win at 100 pounds and three pins to get off to a fast start. Dave Schwartz (114 pounds) pinned Bernard Downing in 52 seconds; Nick Hastings (128), returning to action after being sidelined by illness for two weeks, pinned Alvin Quinones in 4:51 and Scott Perone raised his record to 3-2 with a pin over Gary Howard in 3:28 at 134 pounds. Trenton picked up 12 points on a forfeit at 121 pounds and a fall by Ed Whitfield over Brad Schwartz at 107 pounds.

Trenton tied it at 24 on two quick pins, Irving Muse flattening Princeton's 140-pounder Gabby Ondetti in 61 seconds and Tony Mack pinning Guillermo Orlanski in 65 seconds. It remained tied when Dominick Tracy of PHS and Wayne Brown battled to a 6-6 standoff in their 157-pound match.

Princeton's chances dimmed considerably when co-captain Ralph Carnevale lost a close 4-3 decision to Gary Robinson at 169 pounds, and they were extinguished when Henry Norwood of the Tornadoes decked Paul Knoepflmacher of PHS in 4:28. Trenton upped the final margin to 15 points with a pin at heavy weight, Greg Page showing the lights to Tamar El-Shakls in 2:27.

FIRST GAMES PLAYED

In Dillon League. In opening games in the 1983 Dillon Basketball League, the junior division's 76ers and 86ers were both victorious, while in the senior division, the Demons and Downtowners started the season with victories.

The 76ers, behind 26 points by John Thompson, coasted to a 49-27 victory over the Mini-Tigers. The 76ers were also supported by Jim Scott and Bernard Simpson, with 12 and 10 points, respectively, losers were led by Reuben Steiger's 15 points.

A patient offense and a tough defensive battle, highlighted the second game, as the 86ers rallied to defeat Popcorn Gang, 17-13. Darius Young, John Burnett, and Robert Perle turned in all-around performances to pace the 86ers. Mark Peyton led the Popcorn Gang with six points.

In the senior division, the Demons overcame a tenacious, full-court defense by the Panters to post a 59-39 win. Deran Elliott poured in 25 points and teammate Paul Anderson chipped in with 15 to lead the victors. The Panthers had a balanced team attack anchored by Bruce Goodman (13 points), and Jim Jones and Kelvin Russell (seven points each).

The second game was tied going into the final quarter, but the Downtowners went on to top the Hoyas, 39-32. High scorers for the Downtowners were Scott Yates with 12 points, while Marv Trotman, and Tim Runer added 10 each. The Downtowners were led defensively by David Gross and Doug Davis. Derek Cottrell and Mike Riddick split 24 points for the Hoyas.

14 WINS, ONE TIE

For Mike's Tavern Soccer Team. Mike's Tavern Women's Soccer Team ended its season last week with a record of 14-0-1 in the Mercer County Women's Soccer League.

Mike's ended with a forfeit win over Dario's and earlier earned a 1-1 tie with Parkway Pizza. In the Parkway game, Cindy Hines scored assisted by Cathy Talarick. The game was highlighted by excellent defense by both teams.

Fine defensive play by Trish Robinson, Dee Vertucci, Maureen Nosal, Marci Dutko, Claire Johnston and Mickey Morgan kept the game even, while the offense was led by Cathy Talarick, Clare Baxter, Karen Parker, Carol Ryan and Hines. Goalie Sallie Toscano recorded five saves.

Overall, Mike's outscored its opponents, 51-14. Leading scorers for Mike's were Baxter with 16 goals, including two hat tricks, Parker 11, Talarick 10, Marci Dutko 6, Hines 3, Grace Durland 2, Claire Johnston 2 and Carol Ryan 1. The defense was led by Nosal, Margie Wienkop, Elizabeth Zingg, Robinson, Cindy Savino, Morgan and Vertucci.

PHS GIRLS BOW AGAIN

In Basketball. From the start, Princeton High basketball coach Joyce Jones knew it wasn't going to be easy for her Little Tigers to be competitive this year. "We'll do what we can," she said.

So far, it hasn't been enough. PHS lost its fourth straight last week to Hightstown, 69-46. For the first period, the Little Tigers were competitive, trailing the 5-3 Rams by just two points, 16-14.

Then the bottom fell out in the second period, when the visitors went on a 28-4 tear to break the game open. The Rams's Tami Summerour with 18 points paced the victors, who placed four in double figures. Paige Walden and Karen Lytle led the Little Tiger offense with 16 and 15 points. Tracey Hemmingway added eight more for PHS.

The Little Tigers next will entertain Notre Dame Friday at 3:45, travel to Hamilton High Monday evening for an 8 p.m. contest, and play host to Lawrence the following day at 3:45.

Post Office to Keep Its Branch Location On Palmer Square

The United States Postal Service has no intention of moving out of Palmer Square — at the moment, anyway — but it has every intention of moving out of the main Princeton office on Alexander and is ready to close title on a piece of land across the road.

Over 80 people, most of them residents or office tenants of Palmer Square, signed a petition last week protesting "with vehemence" the removal of the post office from its stately home in the shelter of the Nassau Inn.

Led by a sprightly scholar named Dr. Josefa Weitzmann-Fiedler, petitioners protest that older persons would endure "intolerable hardship" if the post office were moved.

In a place like Princeton, "where so much creative product must be mailed to publishers, agents and scientists," a central post office "is the heart of many of the town's most important intellectual and community-oriented activities," the petition declared. It was sent to the post office, Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley, Planning Board member Elizabeth Hutter and the newspapers.

"Our present thinking is to stay where we are," said an official in the Philadelphia regional headquarters of the post office, an official who said he didn't want his name in print.

"But it's a sticky location, because of that loading dock in the back," he added.

Collins Development, in its plans for expanding Palmer Square, suggests moving the post office to street-level space in the office building planned for the corner of Hulfish and Chambers.

The United States Postal Service owns both the building and the piece of Palmer Square on which it stands. If the post office doesn't want to move, it doesn't have to. If it wants to move, it could leave tomorrow.

What many customers may not realize, even now, is that the Palmer Square installation is only a branch. Princeton's main post office is on

Drumthwacket Furniture Will Be Put Up for Sale

The removal of $200,000 worth of Empire style furniture from Drumthwacket and Governor Kean's announcement of the formation of a new committee to seek genuine antique furnishings of the preceding Federal period (TOWN TOPICS, December 29) have caused a stir that has carried even to the front page of the New York Times.

The furniture, which is in the early American Empire style of the 1820's and 1830's when Drumthwacket was built, has been in Bohren's West Windsor warehouse awaiting disposition. When Mrs. Kean toured the refurbished mansion in August for the first time since the inauguration of her husband, she evidently made clear her dislike for the style of furniture chosen by consultants to the Drumthwacket-Morven Development Corp.

The Corporation was formed by the New Jersey Historical Society to raise funds for and oversee the transformation of Drumthwacket as the official residence of New Jersey governors and Morven as the showpiece-museum of the Society.

Township Cited for Sophisticated Approach To Low-Income Housing in Mt. Laurel Ruling

The New Jersey Supreme Court last Thursday reaffirmed and expanded its 1975 Mt. Laurel decision and cited Princeton Township for its "sophisticated approach" toward the attempt to provide housing for low and moderate-income families.

The court was referring to the Conditional High Density ordinance, designed to implement the provisions of Princeton's 1980 Master Plan. The ordinance, not yet introduced, is being reviewed by Township Committee and the Planning Board. Broadly speaking, it gives incentives to developers to build low-cost housing through density bonuses.

In its ruling, the court declared that it will assign three judges to handle Mt. Laurel cases, and to make sure municipalities comply with the court's directives.

In 1975, the court's initial Mt. Laurel decision stated that "developing" municipalities must provide their fair share of low and moderate-income housing. The word "developing" was a key word; it seemed clear, for example, that the Township is still "developing," but did the concept — and hence the ruling — apply to older, built-up areas like the Borough?

In its new ruling, the court extends responsiblity for low and moderate income housing to all communities in the state. Each New Jersey community is now assigned a place on a Department of Community Affairs map, in one of five categories. Part of Princeton Township — the northern part, along the ridge — is a "limited growth" area, along with Hopewell Borough and Township and Pennington.

The rest of the Township and all of the Borough, are "growth" areas.

Lawyers, still studying the new decision, believe that if the whole Township were "limited growth," there would be no obligation for that municipality under Mt. Laurel. The designation of part of the community as "limited growth" could, however, affect the number of low and moderate income units allocated.

Regions must first be identified, lawyers say. Then, it must be decided how many low and moderate income units must be built in the region, both now and in the future, and finally the units must be allocated among the communities in the region.

The court apparently left open the question of whether a community could satisfy its regional allocation if part of its area is "limited growth."

Lawyers who are most familiar with Mt. Laurel as it might apply to Princeton decline to discuss the new ruling in detail because of the suits that have been filed by developers against both Princeton Township and the Planning Board.

Allen Porter and his partner, Jerry Muller, attorneys for the Planning Board, discussed the opinion during an interview and explained their understanding of it and its application but they declined to say how it might affect Borough or Township compliance, in light of lawyers' rules of ethics, and the pending litigation.

Gibbs and Hill, developers of Princeton Ridge, and Louis D. deMenil, a property owner in the Township, have sued the Planning
